Republic Will Be On Equal Footing With Dutch Crown

THE HAGUE (UP)—The Dutch promised today to surrender their 300-year-old rule over Indonesia by the end of the year.

The Dutch-Indonesian agreement, to become effective no later than Dec. 30, provides for a sovereign Federated Republic of the United States of Indonesia as an equal partner in a new Dutch-Indonesian union, somewhat similar to the British Commonwealth.

Woman Suffered Three Days Alone On Ontario Island

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Doctors said today that Mrs. John Frankiewicz is suffering from shock and exposure after three days and four nights on a lonely island in bitter cold after a water accident that apparently caused the drowning of her husband.

The woman, about 35, was found Tuesday by searchers on an island in Lake Despair, about 35 miles northwest of this Ontario-Minnesota border town. They said she had neither eaten nor slept during her stay on the island. Temperatures dropped to 15 degrees above zero during the nights and snow contributed further to her discomfort.

Although Mrs. Frankiewicz was reported by doctors at Laverendrye Hospital to be in no condition for questioning, it was learned from searchers and relatives that a motor-driven canoe in which the Frankiewicz had set out on a hunting trip apparently upset in rough waters. Mrs. Frankiewicz was wearing a parka which ballooned and acted as a lifebelt, drifting her to shore.

Delay Phone Rate Increase In East

OTTAWA (BUP)—An increase in the rates for telephone subscribers in Ontario and Quebec will probably not be granted until next summer at the earliest, as the result of a decision made today by the board of Transport Commissioners.

The board set Feb. 15 as the date by which answers to the Bell Telephone Company's application for a rate increase should be filed. At the same time, Chief Commissioner Archibald indicated hearings would not open before mid-March. The hearings and the board's consideration are expected to take some months.

New U.S. Navy Chief One Of Unification Sponsors

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shake-up springing from the military policy row and aiming at harmony in the United States high command put Vice-Admiral Forrest P. Sherman in as top officer of the U.S. Navy today.

It was too early to tell whether the replacement by Sherman of the ousted Admiral Louis E. Denfeld would bring a smooth and easy teamwork to the top level job of working out the strategy for war.

It wasn't until late Tuesday that the White House announced President Truman had tapped Sherman to become, at 53, the youngest Chief of Naval Operations in U.S. history.

Sherman was one of the original architects for the armed services unification plan. He told reporters after his new appointment came through that:

He still is 100 per cent for unification, expects no difficulty in getting along with other members of the policy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff and is "sure the navy will give me the support and loyalty they have given all my predecessors."

Yet within the navy and Congress there still is a certain bitterness over the ousting of Denfeld and over the way the whole defence set-up is working. Denfeld was given the boot

The pact was concluded this afternoon by Dutch and Indonesian officials who announced "complete agreement on all points" after two months of negotiations here.

With the agreement the Dutch followed the example set by the United States in freeing the Philippines in 1946 and the British in granting independence to India in 1947. Only France of the continental big powers still maintains a sizeable empire in the Far-East in Indo-China.

Although Indonesia still is to be tied to the Netherlands through a loose Dutch-Indonesian union headed by Queen Juliana, the Indonesians are to have complete control over their destiny.

The sovereignty clause in the agreement stipulates: "The kingdom of the Netherlands unconditionally and irrevocably transfers complete sovereignty over Indonesia to the Republic of the United States of Indonesia and thereby recognizes said Republic as an independent and sovereign state."

The agreement states that "the transfer of sovereignty shall take place at the latest on Dec. 30, 1949."

FORCED TO WITHDRAW

Other main points:

1. The Dutch army, navy and air force shall be withdrawn from Indonesia within one year "unless the (two) governments agree otherwise."

2. The Dutch shall maintain direct rule over New Guinea, but within one year negotiations will be opened to discuss the future status of the island. (The western half of New Guinea is Dutch, the eastern half British and Australian.)

3. The Netherlands will promote the membership of the new Republic in the United Nations.

The new Republic will have a federal government composed of eight major states and several smaller states from among the many islands in the Indonesian archipelago.

Affected Accents In Navy Resented By Lower Decks

HALIFAX (CP)—Officers with English accents now "get the full treatment" in Canadian navy wardrooms, officers and ratings say in commenting on Tuesday's long report on the "silent service."

In answer to a survey conducted among navy personnel by the Canadian Press—Tuesday night, the tars said they're all in favor of the "Canadianization" that was recommended by the three-man commission which investigated "mutinous incidents" aboard three Canadian warships early this year.

The commission's report was tabled in the House of Commons Tuesday and included broad recommendations for improvements in the navy.

It was learned here that a senior officers' conference now in progress at Ottawa will discuss ways and means of implementing the 41 recommendations, about half of which have already been or are being put into effect.

The commission found a "prevailing opinion" that there is an "artificial distance" between officers and men not wholly connected with the necessity of maintaining the essential differences in rank.

One of the facets here of this "artificial distance" is the sudden adoption of a few Canadian-born junior or newly-commissioned officers of an English accent.

One rating said: "Joe Blow and I come from the same town in Saskatchewan. We're below decks for a couple of years together. Then he gets to be an officer. Before you know it, I can't understand what he's saying. In fact, he barely knows me."

Some officers, especially those who served previously in the army or air force, say the other two services have better discipline and at the same time are more "democratic."

But there are many indications here the navy is getting stricter while at the same time improving discipline and, incidentally, getting along better with civilians.

Most officers give much of the credit for this to Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, Flag Officer Atlantic Coast. Admiral Mainguy was one of the three members of the board which made the report.

After the war, the navy was recruiting as fast as it could.

Price, Not Caffeine Brings Coffee Nerves

By HAYDEN LENNARD, British United Press

Coffee may be keeping persons awake these nights—not because of the caffeine, but the price.

Coffee prices have been jumping for the past week or so. At first, the whole thing was gradual. Wary housewives watched grocery store chain prices moving up notch by notch. They took the hint.

Then began the old wartime dodge, operation hoard. The budget-weary housekeepers hauled supplies home, and thanked heaven they did so when firms predicted a four to five cent price hike by today.

Across Canada and in the U.S., ugly rumors circulated that the price may hit a dollar a pound before the upward movement rests.

Even the most optimistic coffee merchants admitted today that the market was in a bad way, and predicted the price would climb further. They complained they had no control whatsoever over the market.

Six Perish As Apartment House Burns In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Six persons died early today in a fire which swept through hallways of a three-story apartment building at the edge of the downtown district and left them trapped in their rooms.

Seven others were burned or hurt in leaps from second and third-story windows.

Four other persons who lived in the apartment house escaped without injury.

Five of the dead were reported to have died of burns while a sixth died in a leap from a window.

Ironically, the blaze was extinguished in short order by firemen and Fire Marshal Harry McNay estimated the damage at only about $2,000.

Dead were: Coy Shelton, Athens, Tenn.; William Hartman, Cincinnati; Mrs. Alma McBeath, Liberty, Ky.; James Alexander, about eight, son of Mrs. McBeath; Goldie Taylor, 53, Cincinnati.

One man was unidentified.

Fire officials expressed belief the fire was started by someone smoking in bed.

Third Day Of Heavy Fog On Lower Mainland

VANCOUVER (BUP)—For the third successive morning, dense fog shrouded the lower mainland. The weatherman termed it the thickest fog of the season. In some areas of Vancouver, the fog rivalled a genuine London "pea souper," with visibility limited to about 30 feet.

Buses, trolleys, streetcars and automobiles crawled through the fog, carrying workers to their jobs this morning.

The International Airport on Sea Island had been fog-bound throughout the night, curtailing all scheduled flights to and from Vancouver.

The weatherman predicted the fog would clear by midday, but that it would close in again tonight.

There have been no reports of aircraft or ships in distress as a result of the fog.

Weather Forecast

Clear and continuing warm today and Thursday; light winds. Low tonight, 46; high Thursday, 57.

Use Torches

LONDON (Reuter)—First "torch brigades" of London's fog season were in action today. Motorists ran into thick fog in the outskirts of the city and had to be guided by volunteers walking in front of them with torches or by shouted directions from the sidewalks. Visibility was down to five yards in some places.

Drag Potomac River Bed For Bodies Of Air Crash Victims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Boatmen today combed the bed of the Potomac River for the missing among the 55 men, women and children hurled to death from the air Tuesday in history's worst airplane tragedy.

Many hours following the collision of an Eastern Airlines four-engine passenger transport and a Bolivian fighter plane, the search went on for the 10 passengers whose bodies had not yet been recovered.

Shocked members of Congress, stunned by the loss of one of their own number, promised a complete air safety investigation. The Civil Aeronautics Board said its hearings into the cause of the crash will start in a few days. The airline scheduled a probe of its own.

The disaster occurred as the big DC-4 transport headed into the National Airport for a landing shortly before noon, flying at about 500 feet.

It was a routine stop on the Boston-New York-Atlanta-New Orleans run. Fifty-one passengers and a crew of four were aboard.

27 Die By Storm In Philippines; Immense Damage

MANILA (UP)—Twenty-seven persons were reported killed in a tropical storm which swept through the central Philippine Islands today.

The Philippines Herald reported 27 fatalities, all in Cebu, Iloilo, Negros and Occidental provinces. Two persons drowned and several were electrocuted, the newspaper said.

Sergio Osmena Sr., son of the former President, was quoted as saying on his arrival from Cebu that damage on that island alone was estimated at $25,000,000.

B.C. Wins Appeal On E. and N. Tax Lands

LONDON (CP)—A prolonged land dispute between the British Columbia government and the Dominion government was settled today by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council with a decision in favor of the province.

The Privy Council's decision was, that no contract existed between the British Columbia government and the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway Company in relation to a 40-mile-wide railway belt within the province.

This effect of the decision is to reverse a judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada against which the Provincial government appealed. There were, however, certain reservations.

During the hearing, counsel for British Columbia recalled that British Columbia entered Confederation in 1871. Section two of the terms of union provided that the Dominion government would construct a railway across Canada, connecting British Columbia with eastern Canada's railway system.

For this purpose the Provincial government conveyed to the Dominion government in trust a strip of land 20 miles in width on each side of the railroad throughout British Columbia.

Subsequently a controversy developed between the two governments as to their respective rights and obligations in relation to railroads on the mainland and on Vancouver Island.

Taxation Not Considered

The Law Lords, in the judgment read by Lord Greene, said they did not propose to consider the answers of the Supreme Court to questions referring to provincial taxation of land.

Lord Greene said since in their Lordships' opinion "no such contractual relationship as is suggested ever came into existence as between the province and the contractors," no such relationship could be claimed by the railway company to exist for its benefit by reason of its succession to the rights of the contractors.

On the other hand, the Supreme Court considered that a contract between the province and the railway company in its own right and not as a successor to the contractors ought to be inferred.

Lord Greene said their Lordships must not be understood as expressing an opinion as to "any moral right" the railway may conceive itself to have to complain of the proposed taxation.

He said agreements were contracted between the province and Dominion and between the Dominion and its contractors.

"But there was no such agreement between the province and the contractors and the whole case under this head rests on the contention that such agreement ought to be inferred from documents and acts of parties."

He added that "if business men had desired to have a binding contractual promise of the kind suggested . . . they would have obtained a written contract to the effect and not left it to be merely inferred."

There was no order on costs made.

Ship Stuck In Mud

CAMPBELLTON, N.B. (BUP)—The sulphur-laden freighter Elg was hard aground 15 miles from Campbellton today and salvage officials said she likely would remain there until late this month.

Operators of a towing firm said the Elg, out of Dalhousie, N.S., was stuck tightly in mud which defied efforts of tugs which headed here after she grounded.

They said high tides probably would do the job when they arrive about Nov. 20.

Received 5,507 Votes

MANIWAKI, Que. (CP)—J. Celestin Nadeau polled 5,507 votes to win the Gatineau riding for the Liberals in the Oct. 24 by-election, final returns showed today. Anastase St. Jean, Progressive Conservative, received 2,752 votes and Marcel Bernard Bonnier, Independent, 1,159.

Received 5,507 Votes

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Party newspaper Pravda today said the C.I.O. convention in Cleveland is taking place in "circumstances of persecution of the progressive wing of the C.I.O. by the entire reactionary press and the rightist leadership of the C.I.O. itself."

Calls Meeting On Arena Problems

Investigator Of Combines Quitting Post

OTTAWA (CP)—F. A. McGregor, 61, commissioner of the Canadian Combines Investigation Act—Canada's anti-monopoly law—has resigned and will step down Jan. 1, it was learned reliably today.

He and his staff have been the chief government instrument in investigation of alleged illegal activities in bread, optical, flour milling and other industries.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F.-Vancouver East) asked in the Commons this afternoon if Mr. McGregor had resigned. Justice Minister Garson said he would give a reply tomorrow.

Mr. McGregor told a reporter any statement would have to come from the minister.

One interpretation being placed on his move by informed observers is that he is quitting in protest against what he considers government failure to prosecute activities he has unearthed.

In the House, too, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, asked if a report by Mr. McGregor on the flour milling industry is ready and if it will be tabled.

Mr. Garson promised a reply tomorrow.

Anticipates Age Limit

The normal civil service retirement age is 65. Mr. MacGregor thus steps down four years before he must.

Only recently Mr. Garson told the House amendments to the Combines Act would be placed before the House at this session, expected to end in about a month. He said they were expected to tighten loopholes in the existing legislation, the basis for prosecution of certain industries in the courts.

One prosecution against dental supply firm was thrown out by the courts on a legal technicality. Prosecution against western bread producers is pending. The flour milling report has been pending for some time after two years of investigation by Mr. McGregor and his staff.

Later in the debate on the 1949-50 budget, R. R. Knight (C.C.F.-Saskatoon City) said it was reported from reliable sources that Mr. McGregor had resigned.

He did not know whether the reports were correct, but if they were, he wanted to pay tribute to a man who had stood up against inequity and against inefficiency in high places.

Currie Elevated To N.S. Supreme Court

OTTAWA (BUP)—Hon. Laughlin D. Currie, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, has been appointed to the Supreme Court of that province, Justice Minister Stuart Garson announced today.

Mr. Currie also held the Labor and Public Health and Welfare portfolios in Nova Scotia's Liberal government.

He was first elected to the Legislature in 1933 and was appointed Attorney-General and Minister of Labor in September, 1945.

Source Of Power

The awe-inspiring power of the atom was graphically illustrated to the House of Commons by Trade Minister C. D. Howe, shown holding a small cylinder of metallic uranium which contains an energy potentially equivalent to that of 500,000 tons of coal. He showed the cylinder to the Commons while moving for establishment of a 14-man House committee to examine the activities of the Atomic Energy Control Board. Uranium now is the main atomic radiation ingredient.—(CP Photo)

LATEST Navy Men Say Report Likely Step Forward

THE HAGUE (Reuter)—All rationing in the Netherlands except coffee will end Saturday, it was officially announced today.

No War Experience

WINNIPEG (CP)—Alex J. Stringer, navy member in the last Manitoba Legislature, said today that "some of the navy's present difficulties stem from lack of war experience on the part of many officers and men of the peacetime navy."

Court Bill Voted

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate this afternoon approved the government bill which will abolish appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

Central Authority For All Commercial Transport Advocated

OTTAWA (CP)—A central authority for the control of all commercial transport—including rail and highway—was advocated before the Royal Commission on Transportation today by 20 railway unions.

The powerful ground of international unions, representing about 112,000 railway employees, urged highway competition be brought under the same type of regulation as the railways are under.

Declaring there now was "inequitable and destructive competition" between rail and highway transport, the unions said that only by central control could each form of transport "be allocated the sphere in which it can best serve its purpose and be assured of economic stability."

No School Friday

Pupils throughout Greater Victoria will have a long weekend holiday. There will be no school Friday so they will have three whole days to play.

The holiday has been proclaimed so district school teachers will be able to attend sectional meetings of the Island Teachers' Convention which opens Thursday night at Victoria High School.

See "Nine Hundred Teachers" page 17.

Officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy stationed at Esquimalt today indicated they thought the recommendations of the commission which investigated "incidents" aboard navy ships was a step in the right direction.

Navy men interviewed today said they could not say much about the report. They are waiting to read the entire submission before forming a definite opinion.

Commanding officers of ships here have, in most cases, spoken to their men and brought out highlights of the report.

TO CIRCULATE COPIES

Copies of the findings will be circulated among all ranks when they are received.

Until they see for themselves what the three-man investigating commission said, the sailors apparently are not committing themselves one way or another.

Changes Backed By Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton told the Commons this afternoon he is in complete agreement with the idea of "Canadianizing" the Royal Canadian Navy.

He was replying to Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (P.C. Naime), who asked which of the recommendations in the Royal Commission's report on the navy are being implemented.

Mr. Claxton said he would deliver a full statement on the report when defence estimates come up for consideration in the Commons next week.

As for "Canadianization," instructions had already gone out that a maple leaf be painted on the funnels of naval ships.

The system now in effect for officer's training was "much more genuinely Canadian" than that undergone by the officers aboard the three ships at the time of mutinous incidents.

Mr. Claxton said the recommendation that the navy set up a training ship had already been put into effect. The cruiser Ontario already had been set aside as a training ship.

Today Warmest Day Ever In November

If you think it's warm for November, you're quite right.

The temperature today soared to 65 degrees and set a November record. Previous hot day for the month was Nov. 28, 1901, when the temperature rose to 63.1 degrees.

July 6 Election 'Guess' By Labor Peer Calverley

LONDON (UP)—Laborite Lord Calverley told the House of Lords today the general election will be held July 6, 1950, but indicated later he was only guessing.

Newsman cornered him immediately after he had finished speaking. He refused to say whether his prediction represented the decision of the Labor government. Asked bluntly if he were just guessing, he said:

"I know as much as you do. But I have been right in forecasting the date of every general election since 1900, except for that in 1931."

He is not and never has been a member of the government. Neither has he been considered a leader of the party in the House of Lords.

Restaurateur Says Seven-Cent Coffee Thing Of Past

VANCOUVER (BUP)—British Columbia is having a "storm in a coffee cup" these days.

In the face of a 5-cent per pound increase, shortages of the beverage and near "panic" buying by hoarding housewives, a stiff warning has been issued by an importer in Vancouver.

The source said today that persons buying coffee in untreated bags at the former price will be taking a loss. He said this coffee will spoil within a month, losing its crispness and go stale.

"The only coffee that will keep is that sold in tins," the coffee importer said.

There was another black note for coffee drinkers in Vancouver. A Vancouver spokesman for the Canadian Restaurant Association said higher prices and coffee shortages sound the death knell of the 7-cent cup of coffee in city cafes.

He predicted the 10-cent cup of coffee will be general throughout Vancouver shortly.

Asks Britain Check Activities Of Tass, Now Immune To Law

LONDON (AP)—Lord Vansittart demanded today that the British government curb the activities here of the official Russian news agency Tass.

A British court of appeals ruled last June 27 that Tass had diplomatic immunity and could not be sued for libel.

Lord Vansittart, a former career diplomat, described Tass as "a scurrilous news agency." He said he would ask the government in the House of Lords Nov. 23 to take "appropriate measures" against it.

The libel action was brought by Vladimir Kravina, a former professor at Prague University. He claimed he had been libelled in a Tass news story in 1948.

Defence counsel presented a certificate from the Soviet ambassador that Tass is an organ of the Soviet state and thus immune.

Lord Vansittart cited this case today.

Tass maintains offices in most of the world's leading capitals. It distributes to various clients stories which follow the official Russian propaganda line.

Will Probe Capacity Of Ice Machines

Current problems of Victoria's Memorial Arena, particularly the capacity of the ice-making machinery, will be discussed at a City Hall meeting at 11 tomorrow morning called by Acting Mayor Ed. Williams.

In attendance will be C. T. Hamilton, arena consulting engineer, who is coming over from Vancouver; members of the city's arena committee, the arena commission, members of City Council and the press.

The meeting was called following a conference this morning between the acting mayor and F. N. Cabeldu, chairman of the arena commission, to discuss failure of the arena's ice-making machinery to replace ice, removed for the George Formby show Monday night, in time for the scheduled opening of the Commercial Hockey League Tuesday night.

Acting Mayor Williams first called Mr. Hamilton early this morning. Mr. Hamilton told him then he would contact the company which supplied the ice machinery and call back to City Hall at 11.15 this morning. The acting mayor and Mr. Cabeldu were in the mayor's office when the call came through and arrangements were made for the meeting at that time.

Acting Mayor Williams will be chairman of tomorrow's meeting. It will discuss anything that comes before it with respect to the arena, he said.

Joe Dutkowski, arena manager, said this morning that last July, when the question of ice removal was discussed, Mr. Hamilton had said ice could be replaced in 24 hours.

Wants Wooden Flooring

Present ice-laying operations were started even before the George Formby show finished Monday night.

The arena manager said this morning that he is in favor of putting a wooden floor over the ice for future shows where it is not required.

A floor to cover half the rink already has been used for a wrestling match and the second half now is nearly completed.

The only trouble with this scheme that Mr. Dutkowski could see was the problem of heating the auditorium of the arena.

Retail Sales Up May Break Record

Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres announced today that retail sales for British Columbia in August, 1949, were valued at $66,050,000, compared with $62,280,000 in August, 1948, and $58,330,000 for August, 1947.

Retail sales to the end of August, 1949, were valued at $489,860,000, compared with $461,780,000 for the same period in 1948, an increase of just over 6 per cent.

"It would appear that the all-time record high established in 1948 would be broken when the final figures for 1949 are totaled," Mr. Eyres said.

1,300-Acre Slash Fires In Washington

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—State fire crews battled two Clark County fires today which burned uncontrolled after blackening 1,300 acres of logging slash.

State Forester Bernard Orell said, however, the blazes were expected to be corralled some time during the day.

He said 110 men, pump trucks and bulldozers were fighting a blaze at the edge of the Beacon Rock State Park. The fire had covered 800 acres.

U.S. Task Fleet Pounded By Gale Off Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (BUP)—A United States task fleet pitched into heavy seas off the Nova Scotia coast today as a gale blew up from the south, lashing the shore with rain and wind.

The warships were heading for Argentina, Newfoundland, and manoeuvres in Canadian waters. U.S. planes taking part in the war games took off from here today despite the driving rain.

Fishing craft were swinging at anchor in coastal harbors and others were chugging toward safety, their hatches battened down to ride the storm.

Weather forecasters said the wind would increase in velocity within a few hours.

Gale warnings were posted early today and at the time the weather bureau predicted 30-mile-an-hour winds would hit the province within 18 hours.

The Dominion Public Weather Office here said in an advisory issued this morning that the storm was heading northeast with nominal winds of 30 miles an hour and "force seven" winds within 100 miles of its centre.

Force seven is the most severe rating in the Beaufort scale on which degrees of marine weather are graduated according to their intensity.

Report Britain To Cease Buying Canadian Newsprint

LONDON (CP) — The Daily Telegraph says today that Britain will discontinue purchases of the Canadian newsprint next year and may cut imports of Canadian bacon and eggs by 25 per cent.

The newspaper reports that two Canadian representatives were "shocked at the severity of the cuts proposed" when they conferred with British officials last week. The Canadians were J. G. Taggart, deputy agriculture minister, and Max MacKenzie, deputy trade and commerce minister.

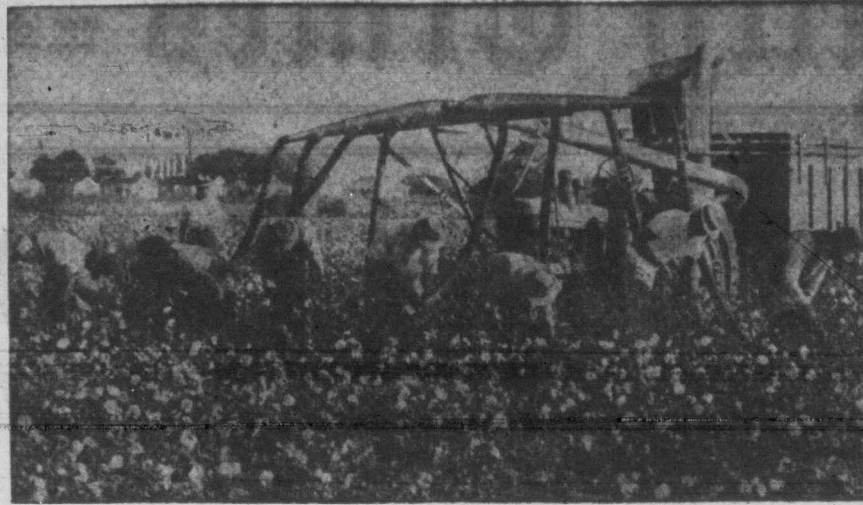

The Telegraph says timber imports from Canada also may be pruned. Treasury officials declined to confirm the Telegraph's version of the proposed cuts, but said the talks with the Canadian representatives were "of a very general nature and not at all in the form of hard negotiations."

Arts Probe Report Made Next Summer

CALGARY (CP) — A desire to have cultural institutions like the National Gallery extend their services to Canada at large has been the predominant feature of briefs presented to the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences, its chairman said Tuesday.

Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chancellor of the University of Toronto, said in an interview that requests varied widely. They range from a petition for national botanical gardens—there are none in Canada—to representations from ethnic bodies—like the group of Swedish musicians in Vancouver—who feel there is a place for their culture in Canada.

Sometime next summer, the commission will deliver its recommendations to the federal government. Chief task of the commissioners is to find out what cultural organizations require aid and how the Canadian government can best co-ordinate its work in the fields of Art, Science and Literature.

NEW HELP FOR COTTON PICKERS—This new semi-mechanical cotton picker, being demonstrated at West Memphis, Ark., can gather in 3,200 pounds of cotton a day. With the aid of eight compressed air suction tubes, the operators draw the cotton from the boll. The cotton is then deposited in the wagon behind the tractor and taken directly to the gin. Since the pickers do not have to drag a heavy bag of cotton behind them, the new machine greatly speeds the picking process.

Stymie Retires To Life Of Ease; Earned $918,485

NEW YORK (UP) — Gallant old Stymie, who rose from the claiming ranks to become the world's greatest money-winning thoroughbred, was retired today to a bluegrass life of ease.

Bred on the sprawling King Ranch in Texas, Stymie was just an obscure selling platter when he was purchased by Hirsch Jacobs in 1943 for $1,500. He was two years old then.

Now eight years old—and still under the guidance of Jacob Stymie leaves the racing scene with an amazing, almost unbelievable, bankroll of $918,485. A sore right foreleg forced Stymie's retirement. He will remain in New York until the end of the racing season in two weeks and then will be shipped to a farm at Lexington, Ky., where he will stand at stud.

Stymie went to the post 131 times and got home first on 35 occasions.

Schedule Road Race For Armistice Day

VICTORIA (CP) — Victoria High School distance runners will meet Oak Bay representatives in a challenge race at Macdonald Park Nov. 11.

The race will start between halves of the junior English rugby match and will finish at the starting point following the game. Route of the race will be to Beacon Hill Park, around the park and return.

Annual Royal Roads cross-country road race is this year slated for Nov. 30.

Wagered On Fight

DETROIT (AP) — An official investigating the Lester Felton-Kid Gavilan fight said today that the fight was a "bait" to lure the Detroit boxer into a fight with the champion, Bert Lamb, had admitted betting on the boxing bout Oct. 21.

Felton, a Detroit boy, was given a split decision over Gavilan, the top-heavy favorite in the 10-round welterweight match. The verdict was bitterly criticized by many who saw the fight.

Fourth Successive Victory Places Stampers On Top

REGINA (CP) — The team that most kibitzers overlooked in preseason ratings today is ruling the roost in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League. Calgary Stampers, who have won five out of their first six league starts, four of them in succession, reached the top rung last night by edging last season's champion Capitals, 4 to 3, in Regina.

Stamps held only a one-point margin over the second-place Edmonton Flyers, but they have two games in hand. Tonight the Cowboys move into Saskatoon to meet coach Nick Metz' rejuvenated Quakers, unbeaten in their last two games.

Third-period scoring power paid off for the Calgarys as Regina as Caps failed in their bid to climb out of unusual surroundings, the league cellar. Stamps opened scoring with a singleton in the first that was matched by Regina in the second session. Then Calgary outscored their opponents, 3 to 2, in the final heat for the victory.

USE TWO GOALIES

Caps resorted to unusual strategy when they used two goaltenders, replacing Bun Nicholson with Don McKinnon for the last seven minutes of the game when they were trailing 3 to 2.

No player scored more than one goal. Veteran pivot Butch McDonald got Calgary's first-period marker and Mel Hill scored for Regina in the second frame.

Markers by rookie Sid Finney, a Calgary Buffalo junior last season, and Roy Heximer, formerly of Lethbridge Maple Leafs, put Stamps two up before Lou Hauk got one from a scramble for Caps. Stan Devick, Calgary's leading goal-scorer, got his team's fourth tally by beating McKinnon. Gordie Staseson of Regina rounded out the scoring in the dying minutes.

LaMotta Gets Cash From Cerdan Fight

DETROIT (AP) — Floyd Stevens, Michigan boxing commissioner, Monday authorized Abe Green of the National Boxing Association, to release $14,000 held in escrow for Jake LaMotta.

The money represents LaMotta's share of the purse in the June fight here in which he won the middleweight championship from the late Marcel Cerdan.

The fight contract stipulated that if LaMotta won, the purse would be held up until a rematch. The new bout was to have taken place in New York in December, but Cerdan was killed last week in an airplane crash.

Monthly meeting of the Overseas League will be held Monday afternoon at 3 in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company. The program includes presentation of a film "Royal Tour of South Africa." Tea will be served. The executive committee will meet at 2.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

DISAPPEARING DOBBIN

DURING MY RECENT visit to Nova Scotia, I was astonished to see yoked oxen being used in the countryside made famous by Longfellow's poem "Evangeline." In this day of mechanization, even on the farms, such a sight seemed an anachronism.

Not that there was anything incongruous about it in these lush, sleepy fields. In fact, the ox-drawn carts and plows fitted perfectly into the setting and tradition of that fertile valley, tying the present to the past with bonds which must gladden the student of history as well as the historian.

The picture of the Grand Pre oxen came back to my mind as I passed a Chinese vegetable cart on Rockland Avenue the other day, reminding me that, before many years are over, the sight of a horse will be as surprising as the sight of yoked oxen.

LEISURELY LIFE

THE CHINESE VENDOR'S horse moved at about the same leisurely pace as the oxen, clip-clopping its way along the street as if it had all the time in the world at its disposal— which philosophy, I haven't any doubt, was shared by its master.

While he delved into the interior of the cart in search of potatoes and cabbages, the old horse nuzzled at some leaves overhanging a garden wall with quiet contentment.

A few blocks farther on, I came across another horse—this time attached to a milk wagon. The driver was delivering his wares at a nearby house, but the horse trudged quietly on, occasionally looking around as if to wonder what was keeping him.

DAY IS GONE

AND I FELT RATHER a pang at the realization that the day of the horse is definitely over—even the Chinese vegetable vendors are gradually replacing them by motor trucks. The spanking teams that once used to draw a certain bakery's wagons in this city, the well-groomed pairs that once high-stepped their way along Victoria's streets with "the surrey with the fringe on top," the fine mare proudly pulling a dog-cart, the little Shetland stepping out in front of a low governess cart—all have disappeared from the scene.

It isn't so many years ago since the residents of Sooke and Duncan and other outlying districts drove or rode in on horseback—the journey taking the best part of a day.

REPLACED BY MACHINES

NOW THE MARCH of progress has pushed to one side the horses on which we once depended for transportation, along with the great Clydesdales and other heavy breeds that once were the mainstay of the farm.

In their place have come the motor cars and trucks, the tractors, and the mechanized machinery which has not only replaced horses, but men as well.

And in the passing of the horse we have lost a noble animal, a faithful friend who responded to kindly care with an affectionate nuzzle, who reciprocated an encouraging word and a pat of the hand with extra effort. And if they occasionally got a bit balky or skittishly inclined to run away, well, that made them all the more interesting and almost human.

SACRIFICED TO SPEED

LIKE THE OXEN, the horse has been sacrificed on the altar of speed. The children of this generation are more familiar with cars than with this one-time four-legged friend. Before very long a generation will grow up to whom the horse is nothing but a museum piece.

In the meantime, I hope fate will deal kindly with the faithful old Dobbins who are now almost on their last legs, and that most of them will end their days in green, lush pastures. That wish is inspired by a rather grim news item dated from Montreal.

It told of a firm of horse brokers who, buy thousands of animals yearly to ship to Europe, for conversion into horse-meat for human consumption. And went on to say that the firm in question is trying to educate Canadians to a taste for horsemeat steaks. All I can say is that I hope we—and our horses—will never be reduced to such a pass!

Urge Canada Slash Tariffs To Expand Trade With U.K.

OTTAWA (CP) — The Social Credit and C.C.F. parties—often at political odds—found themselves on common ground in the Commons Tuesday.

They agreed Canada should reduce tariffs to maintain and expand trade with the United Kingdom and sterling-area countries.

Victor Quelch (S.C.-Acadia) a farmer from Morris, Alta., said his party supports a C.C.F. non-confidence motion in the government.

The motion, introduced by Ross Thatcher (C.C.F.-Moose Jaw) last week in the form of a sub-amendment to the budget resolution, calls on the government to:

"Give immediate consideration to a reduction of tariffs sufficient to encourage an increase in imports from the United Kingdom and other sterling countries."

Mr. Quelch divided Canada's trade problem into two sections—one involving the United States, the other overseas trade. Each would have to be solved separately.

TRADE LOPSIDED

At present Canada sold a lot more to the United Kingdom than she bought from that market. She must be prepared to buy more in order to balance the overseas trade.

As for the U.S., Canada bought considerably more there than she exported to that country. Either she must buy less from the U.S. or sell more to the U.S.

Another farmer, Hazen Argue (C.C.F.-Assiniboia, Sask.) offered the suggestion that Canada take over part of India's sterling balance in the United Kingdom.

The U.K. and India then could use these Canadian dollars for purchase in Canada.

At the House opening Revenue Minister McCann—replying to a question from John Diefenbaker (P.C.-Lake Centre, Sask.) said there is nothing to reports that the $2.50 radio license fee would be abolished this year.

During an hour devoted to private members' bills, the Commons talked out a bill to in-

Price, Not Caffeine Brings Coffee Nerves

By HAYDEN LENNARD, British United Press
Coffee may be keeping persons awake these nights—not because of the caffeine, but the price.

Coffee prices have been jumping for the past week or so. At first, the whole thing was gradual. Wary housewives watched grocery store chain prices moving up notch by notch. They took the hint.

Then began the old wartime dodge, operation hoard. The budget-weary housekeepers hauled supplies home, and thanked heaven they did so when firms predicted a four to five cent price hike by today.

Across Canada and in the U.S., ugly rumors circulated that the price may hit a dollar a pound before the upward movement rests.

Even the most optimistic coffee merchants admitted today that the market was in a bad way, and predicted the price would climb further. They complained they had no control whatsoever over the market.

Third Day Of Heavy Fog On Lower Mainland

VANCOUVER (BUP)—For the third successive morning, dense fog shrouded the lower mainland. The weatherman termed it the thickest fog of the season. In some areas of Vancouver, the fog rivalled a genuine London "pea souper," with visibility limited to about 30 feet.

Buses, trolleys, streetcars and automobiles crawled through the fog, carrying workers to their jobs this morning.

The International Airport on Sea Island had been fog-bound throughout the night, curtailing all scheduled flights to and from Vancouver.

The weatherman predicted the fog would clear by midday, but that it would close in again tonight.

There have been no reports of aircraft or ships in distress as a result of the fog.

Affected Accents In Navy Resented By Lower Decks

HALIFAX (CP)—Officers with English accents now "get the full treatment" in Canadian navy wardrooms, officers and ratings say in commenting on Tuesday's long report on the "silent service."

In answer to a survey conducted among navy personnel by the Canadian Press Tuesday night, the tars said they're all in favor of the "Canadianization" that was recommended by the three-man commission which investigated "mutinous incidents" aboard three Canadian warships early this year.

The commission's report was tabled in the House of Commons Tuesday and included broad recommendations for improvements in the navy.

It was learned here that a senior officers' conference now in progress at Ottawa will discuss ways and means of implementing the 41 recommendations, about half of which have already been or are being put into effect.

The commission found a "prevailing opinion" that there is an "artificial distance" between officers and men not wholly connected with the necessity of maintaining the essential differences in rank.

One of the facets here of this "artificial distance" is the sudden adoption of a few Canadian-born junior or newly-commissioned officers of an English accent.

One rating said: "Joe Blow and I come from the same town in Saskatchewan. We're below decks for a couple of years together. Then he gets to be an officer. Before you know it, I can't understand what he's saying. In fact, he barely knows me."

Second World War Training

In Halifax, the navy through the decades took its traditions from the Royal Navy and during the Second World War the majority of navy men trained with the R.N.

However, it has got to the point now, officers here say, where "accented" officers get the full treatment in the wardrooms. Some officers, especially those who served previously in the army or air force, say the other two services have better discipline and at the same time are more "democratic."

But there are many indications here the navy is getting stricter while at the same time improving discipline and, incidentally,

getting along better with civilians.

Most officers give much of the credit for this to Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, Flag Officer Atlantic Coast. Admiral Mainguy was one of the three members of the board which made the report.

After the war, the navy was recruiting as fast as it could. It took practically all comers and some of these were found later to be unsuited for navy life. It now is easier for a man to get out of the navy and at the same time the navy can be more choosy. Those that it doesn't want are ushered out quietly.

Drag Potomac River Bed For Bodies Of Air Crash Victims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Boatmen today combed the bed of the Potomac River for the missing among the 55 men, women and children hurtled to death from the air Tuesday in history's worst airplane tragedy.

Many hours following the collision of an Eastern Airlines four-engine passenger transport and a Bolivian fighter plane, the search went on for the 10 passengers whose bodies had not yet been recovered.

Shocked members of Congress, stunned by the loss of one of their own number, promised a complete air safety investigation. The Civil Aeronautics Board said its hearings into the cause of the crash will start in a few days. The airline scheduled a probe of its own.

The disaster occurred as the big DC-4 transport headed into the National Airport for a landing shortly before noon, flying at about 500 feet.

It was a routine stop on the Boston-New York-Atlanta-New Orleans run. Fifty-one passengers and a crew of four were aboard.

Gilmore Again Wins Potato-Growers' Prize

VANCOUVER—British Columbia's perennial potato king, Les Gilmore, won the second annual Canadian Industries Ltd. grand championship award at the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board's potato show held in the University of British Columbia armory Tuesday.

A consistent winner of outstanding agricultural awards for the last 15 years, Mr. Gilmore found competition for the challenge trophy the keenest he had yet encountered.

"B.C. grown potatoes are the finest in Canada and should make a clean sweep at the Toronto Winter Fair," he said.

First president of the B.C. Potato Growers' Association, Mr. Gilmore has remained the outstanding commercial potato grower in B.C. This year he obtained yields exceeding 26 tons to the acre in his 50-acre planting in Richmond and did equally as well with another 85-acre crop in the Cariboo.

Boys Get Warning In Court; No Charge

While no charge was laid, two boys of over juvenile age picked up by Constable Albert Wilson around 1 this morning for suspicious acts were given a warning by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today and allowed to go.

Capt. Wilson told the court he found the boys loitering in an alley behind the Veterans of France building on Fort Street. The officer said a ladder had been placed against the wall and he also produced a mackinaw coat with paint stains on it and a pair of gloves which the boys had with them.

Two young women are suspected of shoplifting at two Oak Bay stores Tuesday afternoon. Three dresses were stolen from the Oak Bay Dry Goods store at 2207 Oak Bay Avenue and the Oak Bay Dress Shop, 2182 Oak Bay, according to Chief of Police Hugh Reston.

Plan No Shuffling Of Navy Command, Minister Declares

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said Tuesday 19 out of the 41 recommendations of a commission of inquiry into the navy had already been implemented or were being put into effect.

He told a press conference there would be no shuffling in command as a result of the report, based on findings about "mutinous incidents" aboard three warships at sea early this year.

No action was planned against any of the participants, the incidents would be used, rather, as signposts for constructive improvement in the job of building the navy.

Mr. Claxton said the government won't carry out all the recommendations. Thirteen were in effect already, six were being implemented immediately, four were part of long-term policy and 18 would depend on "general government policy or are under consideration."

Asked what would be done about "the notable lack of human understanding between officers and men," the minister said "That's something for which you just don't simply pass an order." He would do all he could to improve the situation.

Officer Training Extended

Training of officers was being extended both in general subjects and in sea experience. It was hoped to get away from the early segregation practiced in the Royal Navy. The only training with the British Navy now given future Canadian officers amounted to nine months after two years at a Canadian cadet college.

In a statement, Mr. Claxton said in part: "As has been stated in the commission's report, some of the conditions are inherent in the circumstances surrounding the rapid postwar expansion of the permanent navy and will be automatically remedied by the growth of experience and the passage of time. For the present these must be accepted, but every possible effort is being directed towards their elimination at the earliest opportunity."

"Many of these problems, particularly with respect to training, have arisen out of conditions peculiar to the navy."

"Life in a ship of war makes singular demands upon the officer and man. Self-discipline, a sense of individual responsibility, mutual confidence, understanding and respect, and the ability to live and work in harmony with others, often under trying circumstances, must be developed to an unusually high degree."

"The commissioning of Cornwallis in Nova Scotia as a new entry training establishment this year solved many of the problems outlined in the report. Quarters there are much more suitable in every respect than those which were at Naden at Esquimaux. During their training at Cornwallis new entries live for a period in a block in which a deliberate attempt is made to duplicate living conditions aboard ship. Canadian naval traditions and history, the divisional system and welfare committees are taught in detail. On completion of their training, all new entries receive 30 days' leave."

"The provision of training ships has been undertaken, the cruiser Ontario have been assigned to full-time training duties."

Incidents Inter-Related

In the report laid before the Commons Tuesday the commission said there was "no doubt" the incidents were "inter-related, not only with each other but with a prior incident which took place on board H.M.C.S. Ontario in August, 1947." That incident, not previously made public, was similar but of a less serious nature.

First of the series of irregularities occurred Feb. 26 when the destroyer Athabaskan was at Manzanillo, on the west coast of Mexico, during manoeuvres. A total of 90 ratings were involved.

On March 15, a second demonstration was staged aboard the destroyer Crescent, which was at Nanjing to look after Canadian interests at the Chinese capital. Eighty-three ratings participated.

NEW MATTER
The third occurred at Colon, in the Canal Zone, aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent during manoeuvres with ships of the Royal Navy. Some 32 aircraft handlers were involved.

In the case of the Athabaskan, on Feb. 26, the incident occurred just after the noon meal, when it was noted the men had not returned to work. A petty officer investigated, found the mess door locked, and was unable to open it. This was reported to the captain, Cmdr. M. A. Medland of Toronto.

The doors were opened for the captain and the men rose to their feet on his arrival. During his visit, he noted a piece of paper on the table on which some complaints were written, requesting the removal of the executive officer, removal of the coxswain and more co-operation between officers and men. He did not take the paper or read all of its complaints.

He explained he was speaking not as captain of the ship but as senior officer present to advise them. Ten minutes later all hands were back to work.

Charges of "slackness" were subsequently made and each case heard individually. Those who had no reasonable excuse were "cautioned," but not punished. Aboard the Crescent, the disturbance was more marked and there was definite criticism of the captain, Cmdr. David W. Groos of Victoria, and some of the officers.

The men shut themselves in the

Represent Victoria At Nehru Reception

Mayor Percy George and three aldermen will represent Victoria at the Vancouver civic reception to be held this evening for Prime Minister Nehru of India.

The three aldermen accompanying Mayor George are Ald. C. F. Banfield, Ald. Waldo Skilings and Ald. F. G. Mulliner.

The four civic officials today are attending the opening of the Hope-Princeton Highway and will return from there to Vancouver for the reception this evening at the Hotel Vancouver.

mess deck after breakfast and refused to come out. After an hour a paper was found pinned to the outside of the mess-deck door listing grievances in a variety of handwritings.

The "petition" called for replacement of the executive officer; a welfare committee "that will not be vetoed by the captain"; a definite routine which would not be changed every few days; and "a little consideration from the captain."

AT ISLAND PORT

The incident on the Ontario, to which the commission said the other three were related, occurred Aug. 22, 1947, when the cruiser was anchored off Nanose harbor, Vancouver Island.

On that occasion, "a number" of junior ratings asked leading hands of the messes to obtain an interview with the executive officer. The latter reported to the captain that he understood approximately 50 men were "making a bit of a scene" below decks.

Meanwhile it was learned that some of the men had locked themselves in the mess decks. Capt. James C. Hibbard of Victoria, commanding the ship, spoke to the ship's company over the loudspeaker system, saying he would clear the decks in five minutes to talk to all hands. The men concerned fell in.

The captain spoke for about 15 minutes and duties were resumed. Subsequently Capt. Hibbard investigated the grievances and the ship's executive officer, Cmdr. Jeffrey V. Brock of Vancouver and Winnipeg, was almost immediately transferred.

At his press conference Mr. Claxton said the executive officer was a key figure in each incident and the commission said the choice of the "X.O." on the Crescent, Lieut. Gerald R. Wood of Vancouver, was "haphazard, casual and unwise." The other executive officers were Cmdr. Desmond W. Piers, Halifax, of the Magnificent, and Lt. Cmdr. Charles R. Parker, Toronto, of the Athabaskan.

'Tropicana' Dancers Enact Living Jungle Atmosphere

By M.A.
Something entirely new for Victoria, and perhaps in some aspects and from the conventional point-of-view, a bit puzzling, was Talley Beatty's "Tropicana" which was presented Tuesday night at the Royal Theatre.

For more than two hours, a whirling, breathless panorama was enacted; unfolding a story of negro life, from the frenetic ritual of the jungle, through the struggle for freedom in the South to brilliant representations of the modern versions of fundamental rhythm and movement.

COMPLETES CYCLE

Admittedly the order of the program completed a cycle, beginning with the traditional and working forward to the modern. Nevertheless, anything following the incredible "Salvadores Do Brazil" cannot escape being anti-climatic and the tail of the evening did have a tendency to droop.

Moving genius of the company—and that, while not intended as a puff, is equally true either way—is Talley Beatty, a slender, quiet young man off-stage, who started out to be an artist, was discovered by one of America's foremost dancers, and is now well on the way himself, to being the foremost interpreter and exponent of Afro-Indian music and dancing.

GRACE, VITALITY

Talley Beatty's dancing defies description. It is the summation of grace, plasticity, acute control, vitality. Interpretively, it is sensitive and sharp to a degree. Yet his dancing does not dominate the whole, for there is also exciting, technically superb Dorothy Tucker, the passionate virtuosity of Lawaune, petite Doris White, fiery Alex Young and Carmelo Roman.

The choreography throughout, mostly the work of Beatty but in which Lawaune too had a hand, is remarkable in versatility, character and expressiveness. Particularly the ensembles were notable for their co-ordinated meaning and richness of texture.

SPELL-BINDING ASSET

Mimicry is one of the fluent, spell-binding assets of this company; it is always distinctive, vividly focussed, evolved from a profound source. And whether it is interpreting the gay Cuban folk rhythms and spirit of carnival, the heartbreak of "Southern Landscape," the flaring, orgiastic Macumbeiras of Brazil or the St. Louis Blues, it conveys its message with stirring fluency. Incidentally, the weird jungle sounds that accompanied the Brazilian number—and we have this from an expert—created the living atmosphere of the tropical forests.

No little of the success of this unique group, lies in the hands of two astonishing drummers, Dean Sheldon and Paul Meeres, whose brilliant manipulation of an endless pattern of rhythms reminded one of a familiar phrase—"talking drums."

CANADIANIZED NAVY

DURING THE WAR YEARS CANADIANdians from the Atlantic to the Pacific read proudly of the exploits of a navy that grew phenomenally to cope with the increasingly heavy tasks it was called upon to assume. The story of the Atlantic convoys, the achievements of the men in the little ships, earned its place in our history, and was recognized wherever the importance of keeping supply lines open from this continent to embattled Europe was known.

In the later phases of the war, Canadian ships and Canadian sailors shouldered their share of the Mediterranean campaign, the invasion tasks and other operations in a global war. And Canadian homes knew the heartbreak of husbands, sons, fathers and brothers lost in action. The people of this Dominion became aware of a sea tradition of their own.

Against this background, "Incidents" aboard Canadian naval vessels some months ago made disturbing reading. Although their significance was not overemphasized by the authorities, they suggested the existence of conditions which called for remedy. The means by which they may be avoided in future have now been indicated in the exhaustive report prepared by Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainwry, Mr. L. C. Audette and Mr. Leonard W.
Brookington, K.C.—a document expressing unanimity in its findings and in its recommendations.

The commissioners reported "a very real and almost universal opinion among the men that the Canadian Navy was not sufficiently Canadian," and "a prevalent opinion that there is an 'artificial distance' between officers and men not wholly connected with the necessity of maintaining the essential differences in rank."

In its diplomatic language, the commission has implied the growth of a snobbery which should have no place in the senior service. The sooner it is replaced by the type of leadership the commission advocates, the better for all concerned.

Canadian boys and men who joined the navy during the war volunteered to do a job for their country, regardless of whether they were found rig or gold brand—and they accepted the same or equivalent risks.
Some had natural gifts and special training equipping them to command. Others were naturally restricted in their capacities for leadership. But both fought for the same ideal of liberty.

Some of the difficulties experienced by thoughtful personnel now in the navy have been noted by the commissioners, among them a "notable lack of human understanding between officers and men."

Probably the nub of the problem is summed up in two paragraphs of The Canadian Press report on the commission's findings:

Many officers got their early training from the Royal Navy and "do not in all cases appreciate" the differences between Canadian and British ratings. Differences of speech, education, of social environment "have generally made it easier for the R.N. officers to exercise command and at the same time easier for ratings to accept it."

In their years with the R.N. Canadian officers "have superimposed on them a type of life and style of leadership not only foreign to themselves and their own social background. But also of the social background of the men whom they command. There is no form of artificial superiority Canadians resent more than the variety imported from another land."

In other words, the commission, never decrying the character of the Royal Navy, suggests that something more akin to the freer social acceptance of Canada is desirable for this country's navy. Our force has achieved stature and is entitled to its own distinctions. It can have these without jeopardizing discipline or reducing the standards which brought it pride and recognition in wartime. Rear Admiral Mainwry and his colleagues have done an excellent job for Canada in the report they have made and the suggestions they have advanced to overcome what might have grown to be a destructive force in a fine branch of the services.

EXPOSED TO THE LIGHT

ONE OF THE SAFEGUARDS AFFORDED
by the democratic policy of permitting Labor Progressives to operate as a legal party in Canada has been disclosed in Winnipeg. There a handful of party members, two of them aldermen, have written to President Truman condemning the trial of 12 leading American Communists. That the men signing the letter should represent themselves as spokesmen "for the vast majority of the people of Winnipeg" is merely an example of the casual disregard for truth that has been observed generally among Communists.

But because the L.P.P. members hold civic office, their endorsement of the condemnation has become public property and the authorities have taken steps to correct the false impression that might have been created. The remainder of the city council has exposed them as representative of not more than 3 per cent of the population and has extended apologies on Winnipeg's behalf for the extremists' unbecoming behavior.

Had the two L.P.P. men followed a former technique and concealed their identities behind front organizations, exposure would have been more difficult. As it is, they are stamped for what they are—representatives of a very small minority which continually attempts to pass itself off as the only true representative of the people. As long as the L.P.P. is allowed in the open, the over-reaching efforts of its members can be subject to scrutiny and dealt with in an honest, democratic manner.
In the clear light of day, subterfuge is more easily seen.

AN IMPORTANT HIGHWAY

TODAY IS A RED LETTER DAY FOR
the people of that part of the interior of British Columbia now connected by what is known as the Hope-Princeton Highway.
Premier Johnson and several of his ministers are attending the formal opening ceremony and by the time this is read the head of the government will have "cut the ribbon."

Those who have followed the gradual extension of highway connections in British Columbia during the last three or four decades will recall the political discussions and the engineering difficulties attendant upon the emergence of the Hope-Princeton Highway from the realm of rhetoric to that of practical achievement. It is all very well, of course, for some of our people to demand this highway and that highway through one region or another. But those who bark the loudest, who give generously of their "advice," are often those who complain most bitterly about the cost of taxation.

It is neither new nor novel to repeat that the only dollar to be sliced for the allocation of funds for the improvement and general progress of this highly-favored part of Canada is the dollar which comes out of the pocket of the average man and woman on the street. It is a matter for congratulation, however, that this fundamental economic fact is being understood better now than ever before. And it must be understood. The guardian of the municipal, provincial, or national till is the elected representative who must watch income and expenditure with the utmost vigilance. Naturally enough, the various governing bodies of the country would like to say "yes" to all the financial importun-ties to which they must listen from month to month—and appeals for roads are invariably among them. But it would be discounting the intelligence of our readers to suggest how many of the demands upon the public treasury have to be refused.
Not that some of these demands are without merit; but it stands to reason that refusal in numerous instances is forced by virtue of the fact that the requisite funds are not available.

Regardless of the foregoing comments,
we nevertheless salute those enterprising residents of the interior of the province who have never lost faith in their belief that this vital link of highway communication would one day become an accomplished fact. We may take it for granted, therefore, that within a very short period of time traffic of all kinds from various parts of the North American continent will be rolling over the new surface and that, of course, will help to foster that important understanding which invariably is the result of people getting to know one another better.

MAKE YOUR NAME COUNT

IT IS GRATIFYING TO LEARN THAT
the population of Victoria, as reflected in the number of voting registrations on file with the city clerk, has grown so tremendously during the past few years. The current voters' list, of more than 18,000 names, sets a record, and raises hopes for a large poll in the forthcoming civic election contests. But the fact remains that the mere number of names on the eligible voters' list does not constitute a significant measure of a community's enthusiasm for democracy. It is the proportion of registered voters which turns out to cast ballots that indicates the level of civic interest and healthy participation in public affairs.
Hence it is important that all those with the franchise should make a point of exercising it. It is a right—and a privilege—whose value cannot be over-estimated.

WAR MEMORIAL

A NEWS DISPATCH TELLS OF "SPE-" cial villages being built in England and Bavaria for mutilated soldiers of the Second World War. It describes how the German program calls for a whole community to be populated entirely by blind ex-servicemen, with a Braille library and other facilities adapted to their needs. And it outlines the plans for a village in Derbyshire, where limbless British veterans will live in houses designed to render their handicaps less uncomfortable.

Surely no two enterprises, taken in conjunction, could better illustrate the inherent hopelessness and the human destruction of war. Victor nation and vanquished nation—both must try to repair the injuries done the flower of their manhood, to make less a torture the endless days of pain and physical adjustment that are the inevitable aftermath of war. A village of the blind and a village of the crippled—have the postwar years produced any more conclusive argument against international conflict; any more telling monument to the incredible wastage of war?

SOCIALISTS AND LIBERALS

ONE CAN, of course, find a local explana- tion in many European countries for the weakness and uncertainty of government. But there may be also a general explanation of why at this time in virtually the whole European part of the Atlantic community the struggle of political parties is so keen that strong governments with decided policies are not being formed.

As a broad generalization and for what it may be worth, I think the explanation may be that Western Europe is just entering a fourth phase of its postwar experience. In the first, which lasted from the armistice to the rupture of four-power collaboration, the foundation of the Comin-form and the outbreak of the cold war, the governments were coalitions which included the Communist parties.

IN THE SECOND phase the governments became anti-Communist coalitions, led either by Democratic Socialists or by semi-Socialist Christian Democrats. They felt themselves threatened by revolutionary Communism and by invasion of the Red Army. They were supported by Marshall aid and guaranteed externally by American military power.

In the third phase the fear of Communism diminished as a substantial economic recovery took place; the fear of military invasion subsided as the American rearm-ment progressed and as the Soviet Union made no moves to exploit the military weakness of Western Europe.

IN THE FOURTH phase, which I think is now beginning, there is enough internal and external sense of security to permit a revival of domestic politics; there is enough economic recovery to make people feel that they are no longer struggling to exist but that they can struggle to live better and to satisfy their ambitions.

In this latest phase the basic issue in Western Europe is not primarily between Communists and anti-Communists. The issue is within the anti-Communist coalitions themselves, among the heterogeneous groups of left wing Socialists, right wing Socialists, left and right wing Christian Democrats, real liberals, pseudo-liberals, and reactionaries of various sorts.

IN SO FAR as Soviet military imperialism is felt to be contained and revolutionary Communism checked, a struggle for power is breaking out within the anti-Communist coalitions. Though the division is not clearly defined along party lines, broadly speaking the contest is between Socialists and liberals.

For our present discussion I would define the difference between Socialism and liberalism as turning upon whether the production of wealth shall in the main be regulated by competition in the market place, or be planned and directed and managed from government offices. Thus there is no necessary difference in principle between Socialists and liberals on the political institutions of a free and democratic state. The issue between Socialists and liberals is about the production of the wealth from which all public and private income is derived.

ON THIS ISSUE the Socialists lean towards government administration, believing that private actions for private profit will not harmonize to serve the public interest. The liberals lean toward individual and corporate competition, believing that it alone offers the incentive and the compulsion to produce wealth without the sacrifice of political freedom. The liberals believe that if the government is to administer a large part of the production of wealth, then unavoidably there will be a swelling bureaucracy, and an ever increasing use of the police power of the state.

IN THE BROADEST terms it may be said that in Western Europe the Socialist principle was dominant during the war and in the years immediately after. Though the Socialists are still very powerful in all western countries, they are now challenged by a reviving liberalism. On the western continent in any event some kind of liberalism in economic matters is now favored by perhaps half of the non-Communist voters.
Among the parties that participated in the government of France, Western Germany and Italy (the Communists having been excluded since 1947) the balance is now very slightly in favor of the non-Socialist liberals. That is why it is impossible to form Socialist governments. Yet because the liberals have such a slender plurality, so it is very difficult to form stable non-Socialist governments. Thus there is a kind of permanent political crisis.

IT IS IMPROBABLE, it seems to me, that this struggle can be resolved while Europe is divided by the military occupation and while the crisis of the sterling area brings of the international emergency after another. But one can say, I think, that for the time being the Socialists are men who have had their chance to reconstruct Europe and have not succeeded. Though there is a considerable recovery since the war, Europe is not within sight of solvency, or of a modest unity, or of a standard of life which the masses of wage earners in all countries, and great masses of the peasants in southern countries, will accept with good will.

But the opportunity of the liberals, which has arrived, is still based on the default of the Socialists rather than on their own clear purposes and proven capacity to solve the problems of Europe. A great deal depends on how they use the opportunity which is being presented to them.

AUTHORITATIVE CERTIFICATE

Reference your news item to the effect that the Victoria and district zone council of the Canadian Legion will ask the Department of National Defence to issue certificates certifying that recipients of Second World War medals are entitled to wear them.
Surely the Canadian Legion knows that every ex-service man is, or should be, already in possession of such a certificate.

I am referring to the certificate of discharge issued personnel of each of the services, which certificate, in addition to showing in brief details of service performed, including theatres of operations, also shows campaign stars and medals, also decorations, earned during the war 1939-45 and the production of this certificate should serve the purpose of the legion.

Whilst it may be that the certificates issued to those discharged prior to the approval of the final medals do not reflect all medals and stars earned, a corrected discharge certificate, showing all awards to which the individual concerned is entitled, may be quickly obtained by sending the incomplete certificate to the "Director, War Service Records, Department of Veterans Affairs, Ottawa, Ont." with a request for a new up-to-date discharge certificate.

To ask a man to produce the certificate of entitlement to medals, when he is in possession of a discharge certificate, would be as logical as asking a man to produce a receipt for the dollar he paid for his driver's license in addition to producing the license itself. Moreover, to ask for the issue of this unnecessary document would throw a great strain on the department now busily engaged in the issue of campaign stars and medals as it would mean checking again the records of one million ex-service men and women.
Let it be understood that I am strongly in favour of steps being taken to ensure that no person shall be in possession of, or wear, any medals to which he is not entitled, but as stated, a complete discharge certificate is the answer to the problem; one's wallets and pockets are already overcrowded.

NOT FAR ENOUGH

With very great respect to the government of British Columbia, I would suggest that its hospitalization scheme does not go far enough.

It should include doctors, nurses and all hospital expenses which could be paid for by a levy on all incomes of about two cents in the dollar.

The present system is not popular and the poor are paying as much as the rich and the people have no confidence in it.

South Africa Story

A. I. MACKENZIE, Bloemfontein, O.F.S., South Africa

IN VIEW of the mess that South Africa finds herself in at present, it might strike your readers odd to see a letter in praise of the country. While admitting that the present political situation is about the worst in South Africa's history, fundamentally the country is still sound.

Gold is still world currency and—ignoring what South Africa is producing at present—
she has great gold fields as yet untapped. The Union's coal resources are by no means insignificant and as they are situated close to the gold fields this is one of the Union's strongest cards. One of the largest iron-ore fields to be found in the Empire has been found in the Transvaal, near Pretoria, and a beginning has been made to develop these fields.

South Africa has been producing diamonds for years and now large deposits of uranium have been found. The United States is purchasing all the chrome and manganese ore South Africa can ship to her. As our deposits of these minerals are large, South Africa is not faced with the risk of going short herself. Asbestos is a commodity increasing in importance and South Africa has plenty of that as well.

In the agricultural field we are not so fortunate. But in spite of handicaps she is nevertheless one of the world's largest wool-producing countries. The Union's fruit-growing industry is rapidly growing in importance and the country's sugar and oil expressing industries are sufficient for the country's needs.

There is a large maize-growing industry and the cattle industry, although somewhat erratic, manages, on the whole, to supply the country with meat.

The dairy industry is poor but showing some signs of improvement. Poultry farming is coming to the fore.

South Africa is, a patchwork quilt. She is in the process of changing from an agricultural to an industrial country. This process is not complete but it is taking place. The country at present is suffering from severe teething trouble, but she will finally outgrow this.

The Tale Of The Comet

By L. EDGAR PRINA, North American Newspaper Alliance, From Washington

DECLARING that the British have a two-to-three-year lead in their plan to capture the coming world market in commercial jet transports, Sen. Owen Brewster (R-Me.) has announced that he will lead a Congressional fight in January to provide federal funds to help American manufacturers meet the challenge.

SUPERB PLANE

The senator recently inspected the De Havilland, the best of half a dozen jet transports that performed at 600 m.p.h. for aviation experts of 60 countries at a show in England last month.
Brewster called it a superb plane and said it would be ready for commercial use in 1952.
Meanwhile, he added, no American company has even started to build a comparable aircraft.
Both Brewster and Sen. Edwin

Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, believed—and in this they are supported wholeheartedly by the industry —that development of American jet transports can only come about with government financial aid, as was the case in Britain.
Britain's lead probably will be extended by at least another six months before any American manufacturer will be able to start the pursuit.

FUTURE DELIVERY

Brewster said that he had heard that one large American airline had an agreement with De Havilland for delivery of the first Comet—after British government orders are filled.
Called the boldest adventure
into the future of civil aviation, the Comet has four gas-turbine-powered Ghost engines that develop 5,000 pounds of thrust each; it is 115 feet in wing span, cruises at 500 m.p.h. at 40,000 feet (above the weather), and its range is being extended from the present 2,000 miles to make it a trans-oceanic plane.

There have been reports in aviation circles that three companies have placed revocable orders, which may be canceled if an American firm can put a comparable plane on the market in time.

THE OTHER FOOT

Perhaps one British aviation expert hit the nail on the head when he wrote: "The shoe is on the other foot now. For the past five years we have been buying Constellations, Skymasters, Dakotas and other American-built aircraft for our airlines. Now America will have to buy from us."

THE sweeping success of the Communist armies in China has set the chancelleries of the western world to pondering whether the victorious forces are likely to halt at China's frontiers or whether they may try to spread the Redism by invasion of neighboring countries.

State Secretary Acheson of the United States has expressed concern that the Reds might strike beyond China. However, many diplomats take the view that the Communists won't invade other countries militarily but will depend on fifth-column offensives, with perhaps later infiltration by guerrillas.

Whatever may be the procedure, of this I think we may be sure: Moscow is bound to take advantage of the Communist success in China to try to spread Bolshevism throughout the Far East.

Naturally thoughts immediately turn to Burma and to the Indian peninsula, which comprises the countries of India and Pakistan.
This vast territory contains more than 400,000,000 people—close to one-fifth of the globe's population.

The Chinese Nationalists still hold that part of western China adjoining Burma. But should the Communist armies capture this Chinese territory they would have direct communication with Burma and thence with India.

It is hard to believe that the Chinese Communists would venture any military invasion of Burma and India. It is equally hard to believe that they wouldn't intensify their already vigorous efforts to convert these countries to the Redism. There already are Communist Parties on the Indian peninsula and in Burma.

Actually the efforts to communist India stretch back as far as the revolution of 1917 which brought Communism to power in Russia. I spent several months in India at that time and encountered Communism myself, although the British Secret Service—which covered the country like a net—was keeping close tabs on all such movements.

Despite this generation-long crusade, Communism never has made great headway in Pakistan or India. In Russia, on the other hand, the Reds have made considerable progress, though just how substantial that progress may be is questionable.

MIRACULOUS LURE
T. D. F. in the Ottawa Citizen
A miraculous case of mass cure of the ailing is reported from Detroit. Under a new by-law, civic employees who refrain from using up their sick leave get an extra long vacation, and now hardly anybody gets "sick!"

HARD CHURCH PEWS
Windsor Star
Nova Scotia-born Rev. C.
Fraser Kierstead of Fitchburg, Mass., has been doing some research. He sat among his congregation, listened to a sermon, and reached two perhaps associated conclusions. One is that hard church pews are "numbing and tiring" and the other that no sermon should be longer than 20 minutes.

It may be the designers of church pews were determined that none who use them ever should go to sleep in the midst of a sermon. If so, this objective has been attained except in the case of one fortunate enough to be able to sleep anywhere and in any position.

But, also, it is difficult to pay close attention to a sermon if one is wriggling around, vainly attempting to get at least a minimum of comfort. It does seem ultra-Puritanical to make worthy people suffer so.

STILL PAY NO HEED
Toronto Globe and Mail
Earth's course, swinging

ness of the infinite space, brings into view old friends among the stars. The eternal pattern of the universe in silence makes the dizzy restlessness of men seem futile and unworthy, so brief and unimportant beside the timeless objects of its purpose. The glittering constellations still touch the sense of mystery, as they did 5,000 years ago on the plains of Egypt and on the marshlands of the Euphrates.
They still shine down, but on the ruins of great cities and on the dust of men who dreamed they they could unlock the secrets of the universe. Still their message of humility reaches down to human hearts through the quiet of the autumn night. But still men do not see or hear.

Vancouver Civic Centre To Have Theatre-Television

VANCOUVER (CP) — A $6,000,000 auditorium-theatre-television centre definitely will be under construction in Vancouver next year, Mayor Charles Thompson predicted Tuesday.

Mayor Thompson made the announcement in conjunction with chairman Hugh A. Martin of the Civic Auditorium Committee, and added that the project "should be completed in 1951."

Financing, except for the $2,500,000 already appropriated, will be entirely outside the city's 10-year plan.

A public bond issue, floated by the auditorium committee but backed by the city would raise an additional $1,125,000. The project has not yet come before the council for approval.

Housed in the building, the mayor said, would be three main units: a $1,900,000, 10-story library building; a $1,450,000 auditorium and a $270,000 little theatre, and a $520,000 CBC radio and television centre and restaurant.

A 500-car parking lot would be beneath the building.

Financing plans call for negotiations for 10-year leases of CBC space, also leasing of the underground parking lot and surplus office space in the library building.

House Burns Down; Blame Firecrackers

NANAIMO—Although origin of the fire has not been determined the belief has been expressed that firecrackers caused the loss of the $10,000 five-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Perry, Lantzville, on Halloween.

The owners and their children were attending a Halloween party at Lantzville at the time. Only sufficient insurance to replace one room of the home was carried on the dwelling which is 12 miles north of Nanaimo. No insurance was carried on the furniture, which was a total loss.

No Alcohol At U.B.C. Banquet

VANCOUVER (CP) — University of British Columbia's engineering students have decided to go on the wagon.

Walter Gage, dean of U.B.C. inter-faculty affairs, said Tuesday night the students had voted to ban alcohol from their annual banquet.

Their decision was announced at a meeting called to discuss conduct of fellow-students who climaxed their banquet last month with a spirited display in downtown Vancouver.

The engineers pulled off trolley wires, then picked up a small car and moved it several yards—with an elderly couple still inside the vehicle.

Dean Gage said that "if the banquet had taken place amongst cannibals or savages then the action of the participants might have been understood."

New Pacific Island Rises Above Sea

HONOLULU (AP) — A new Pacific island was reported Tuesday. It is so new, in fact, it hasn't been christened—or even claimed.

A report to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin from Paea, Tahiti, related:

An airline captain said he saw the island rise in a volcanic eruption in the New Hebrides group 3,600 miles southwest of Hawaii.

Capt. J. P. Pommer of Transports Aériennes du Pacifique Sud said he sighted smoke Sept. 13 after leaving Noumea, New Caledonia, on a regular flight.

Thinking a ship was afire, Pommer circled to investigate. Among boiling waves, a new island was in the making. On its north rim a flaming volcano belched every 11 minutes.

Pommer saw the island again Oct. 18. It had risen an additional 300 feet out of the sea.

It is not unusual for islands in the Pacific to rise—and disappear—due to volcanic action.

REHEARSAL FOR SYMPHONY—Vancouver Symphony Orchestra rehearsing for its Nov. 7 Victoria concert at the Royal Theatre. ## Eighteen Charwomen Clean Underground Railways Of London

LONDON (CP) — Eighteen London charwomen have a job that is never finished—cleaning the 130-mile underground railway system.

They work quickly and efficiently, but it takes them two years to get round the whole system, for operations are limited to those few small hours of the morning when no trains are running. Then the following morning they start all over again.

The job is regular as clockwork. At 1 a.m. after the last train has gone, a master switch is thrown. The high voltage "live" rail goes dead and the women, wearing grey overalls and carrying hand brushes, dustpans, and scrapers, troop down into the tunnels.

For nearly four hours they trudge along the rails sweeping up metal dust and the inflammable debris that gets blown down the tunnels. With them goes an electric trolley, operated by batteries, on which five or six garbage cans are mounted. When the cans are filled to the brim, the trolley is driven to the nearest station, where the full cans are exchanged for empties.

The women work in pairs and each is expected to clean 70 feet of tunnel in one shift. Sharp at 4:30 a.m. they gather up their cleaning apparatus and leave the tracks—10 clear minutes before the current is switched on for the first train of the day.

"It's not everyone's choice of a job," said young Alan Reid,

Calgary Arts Centre Deplores Passing Of Indian Culture

CALGARY (CP) — The modern Indian "culture" is as far from its ancient origins as the slovenly reservation is from the wild, free prairie he once called his hunting ground.

The Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Science Tuesday heard that the natives' crude but powerful carvings and other art forms had been replaced by "a saccharine brand of imitative work."

A brief presented by the Calgary Arts Centre blamed the culture deterioration on "well-meaning people" who warp Indian children to the white man's loom.

Fear was expressed that Indian handicrafts might disappear completely, since there are no good collections in the province. The only answer, a Canadian Handicrafts Guild brief said, is to encourage the Indian by paying higher prices for his work.

At present, the guild's brief said, Indian children "are prouder of their crocheted work than of beadwork."

Canadian radio came up for discussion once more, as it has at every commission sitting from coast to coast.

F. H. Elphicke of Vancouver, representing All-Canada Radio Stations, asked "equal rights" with the CBC. He said a private network had been discussed by the co-operative group of 11 radio station managers, but that no plan had been worked out in detail.

Good neighborhoods include schools, churches, parks, and other recreation areas. A neighborhood centre and a shopping centre should be near by. All of these facilities should be within walking distance of your home.

who has charge of the early morning staff, "but it has the advantage that hours are comparatively short."

The charwomen—or "fluffers"— as they are known to the trade—earn between $6 ($18.60) and $7 weekly, and the shift system gives them one morning off every week.

Victim Faints Away When Aged Lothario Pronounced Guilty

CHICAGO (AP) — Sigmund (Sam) Engel, this country's current No. 1 love swindler, was convicted Tuesday of a confidence game charge. He faces a possible prison sentence of one to 10 years.

The jury deliberated only about an hour in reaching the guilty verdict.

In closing arguments, opposing lawyers pictured Engel as a hardened swindler who bilked a trusting Chicago widow, and as simply a "greedy old man" who courted a "bragging young woman."

He was convicted of bilking Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, of $8,700 after promising her marriage and a singing career in motion pictures.

A motion for a new trial was set for Nov. 9. Defence lawyers sought to obtain the 74-year-old Lothario's freedom on bond pending a ruling on the motion.

Judge George M. Fisher fixed Engel's new bond at $15,000.

Mrs. Corrigan rose after the verdict announced "I'm grateful to everybody," and then slumped fainting to the floor.

Engel, who bragged "I'll never spend a day in jail," was visibly shaken by the verdict. He nervously removed his glasses and his eyes appeared red and tired. He had sat impassively through the arguments. He was nattily dressed in an Oxford grey suit, green tie, white shirt and white pocket handkerchief. He was accompanied to the courtroom by Mrs. Pauline Langton of New York, whom he calls the "only true" Mrs. Engel. They were married in Arlington, Va., last spring, but the state says Engel still is married to Mrs. Corrine Perry Engel, who has started annulment proceedings.

Imperial Vets Get Pensions In Dollars

Imperial disability pensioners who had prewar domicile in Canada and had their Imperial pensions brought up to Canadian rates, will continue to receive their pensions in dollars, reports Stanley H. Okell, assistant district administrator for the Department of Veterans' Affairs. He wished this to be made clear in view of the devaluation of the English pound.

To Ask For Funds For Research On Prehistoric Find

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP) — Two University of Oregon scientists said today they would seek research funds to further investigate "important" prehistoric animal discoveries near Pendleton. The original discovery was made by Barber Ray Spangle, an amateur geologist, amid rocks on the bank of the McKay reservoir five miles south of here.

He led the scientists, San Dan Sargent and Arnold Motzwell, into the area two weeks ago. They found fossilized bones and teeth of a large aquatic rhinoceros and a deer-like animal, as well as bone fragments of an ancient horse and a large cat, possibly a sabre-toothed tiger.

The scientists said the animals lived in the Ice Age, one to two million years ago.

Highway Gives South Okanagan Direct Road Link With Coast

By DAVE DRIVER
(Victoria Times Representative)

ALLISON PASS SUMMIT. B.C. — Premier Byron Johnson this afternoon formally opened and dedicated to the public use the Hope-Princeton Highway, a ribbon of blacktop 83 miles long which provides the southern Okanagan Valley with its first direct highway link with the coast.

Using a gold key the premier unlocked a padlock on a gate across the highway at this 4,400-foot Cascade summit of the road. In attendance to witness the ceremony, the greatest road opening show ever put on by the provincial works department, were a majority of the members of the provincial cabinet, mayors of British Columbia's three major cities, engineers who laid out the highway, representatives of the contracting firms which built it and hundreds of guests.

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb and Works Minister E. C. Carson also took part in the ceremonies.

LARGEST PROJECT

The opening ceremonies had been preceded by a vast program of publicity in which the highway was billed as "the largest modern highway project ever to be undertaken by the provincial government."

Caravans of autos carrying the government officials and guests to the opening ceremonies left Vancouver and Princeton earlier in the day. The official caravan from the coast, conveyed by B.C. Police patrol cars and motor cycles, left the Burnaby municipal hall at 9.30. In it were 25 cars.

The coast caravan had stopped at Bridal Veil Falls for sandwiches and coffee and proceeded through the first road block at Mile 23 at 1. This summit is at Mile 35 east of Hope.

The scene of the opening ceremonies was a camp used by one of the two major contracting companies during the construction of the highway. There a platform from which the opening ceremonies were conducted had been erected.

The ceremony got under way with the playing of "God Save the King" by the New Westminster Lions Boys' Band. Mr. Carson and Mr. Anscomb gave introductory addresses and then Premier Johnson, with gold key in hand, proceeded to unlock the padlock and throw open the gates, bright in gold paint.

IMPORTANT STEP

"Completion of the Hope-Princeton Highway marks an important step in the history of highway construction in this province," said Mr. Johnson. "... it will now be possible to drive from Vancouver to Princeton in seven hours, compared with 12 or 13 hours previously."

"In this age of rapid transportation and competitive business, I cannot say how important a link with the interior this new highway constitutes. It is my expectation that the business between the interior and the coast will greatly expand as a result of the opening of this highway."

Mr. Anscomb recalled that under his administration of the works department the building of the Hope-Princeton Highway had been projected.

"That the benefits to be derived from it are incalculable, no one will doubt," he said. "It affords great opportunity for our own people and our American friends from a tourist viewpoint, and will be a very vital factor in the economic life of the southern section of the province, bringing, as it does, the great Okanagan fruit belt within six or seven hours of the centres of population at the mouth of the Fraser River."

TRIBUTE TO BUILDERS

Mr. Carson paid tribute to the men who built the highway.

"The completion of the new highway from Hope to Princeton," he said, "is the consummation of a dream of our engineers and the planners of the pattern of our road system. It is a vital link in the chain."

"I like to think of the Hope-Princeton Highway as a memorial to the engineers and builders who have had a part in its location and construction, in that it will provide a thoroughfare for this and future generations. There is a great endeavor. Their inspiration is perpetuated in the stone, steel and concrete of this enterprise."

After the formal ceremony those attending trekked to the construction camp dining room for a buffet meal of cold turkey, sandwiches and coffee. Preparation had been made for serving 2,000, although the room would hardly hold 400.

Postponement Move For Saanich Sewer By-law Defeated

Councillor Leslie H. Passmore's application to have presentation of the expensive sewer money by-law to the voters postponed for three months, failed to win the support of Saanich Council at a special meeting Tuesday night.

His only supporter was Councillor William C. Kersey.

Mr. Passmore asked for the postponement to provide time to investigate the angle of applying waterworks profits to the cost of the proposed sewer project, also so that the government can dispose of the Ward Six secession application, one way or another.

Mr. Passmore thought too many by-laws and referendums were being put to the people at one time. He believed it would confuse the voters and the result would be more lost services to the municipality.

Mr. Kersey believed the sewer by-law would have a better chance of getting the required majority of "yes" votes early next year. He figured the secession move would be disposed of then.

Mr. Kersey claimed Ward Six would vote solidly against all money by-laws. However, in the opinion of Councillor George Austin, the rural vote would not be strong enough to defeat the by-laws.

Seek Pay Increases

NANAIMO—Proposals for pay increases from members of the Nanaimo Civic Employees' Association were received at the city council meeting here.

Among proposals were 10 cents an hour increase for outside labor, a 40-hour week for garbage crews and maintenance men, an increase of 10 cents per hour for the city hall staff and three weeks' holidays with pay after 15 years' service.

A $30 a month basic salary increase with pay days every second Friday and three weeks' holidays with pay and two statutory holidays was sought by firemen.

By-law Withdrawn

Saanich Council at a special meeting Tuesday night was forced to withdraw the fire protection by-law which it had planned to put to the electors in December.

Reason for the withdrawal is that a survey cannot be completed in time in regard to the fire alarm boxes planned in the by-law to give the municipality more adequate fire protection. The alarm boxes are a major item of expense in the by-law.

The by-law is the result of the campaign launched by Ward Six Ratepayers' Association earlier this year over the inadequacy of Saanich's fire protection and the subsequent demand of Fire Chief Joseph Law for a long list of items to remedy the situation.

Saanich Council purchased a 1,000-gallon tank to provide water for rural alarms as an emergency measure to give farming areas better protection in fire emergencies.

Health Committee To Hold Meetings

SOOKE—Reports of the elected representatives of the Sooke School District health committee will be given at the annual

UNEMPLOYMENT

The Gathering Storm

Years before the beginning of World War II, Winston Churchill warned the British people what was coming, but no one took heed of his warning.

The B.C. Command of the Canadian Legion is deeply concerned over the possibilities of mass unemployment in Canada in the years to come.

WE BELIEVE THAT ACTION SHOULD BE TAKEN NOW

FIRST: To prevent a recurrence of the unemployment situation which prevailed in B.C. last winter.

SECOND: That wise and over-all planning should be carried out by all governments, Federal, Provincial and Municipal, designed to ensure that in case of a business depression the people of Canada will not suffer the same conditions which existed from 1930 to 1939.

The following resolution passed by the B.C. Executive Council of the Legion in February, 1939, when the unemployment situation in B.C. was at its worst, was reaffirmed by our Provincial Convention at Victoria in May.

WHEREAS Canada is faced with the problem of mass unemployment which may in the near future reach the proportions of the 1930's;

AND WHEREAS the Canadian Legion is finding that thousands of veterans of both wars are in urgent need of the bare necessities of existence through the present unemployment;

THEREFORE be it resolved that the Federal Government be advised that the B.C. Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion feels that the following measures must be adopted at once:

1. Financial aid must immediately be provided to existing agencies set up to relieve want and distress. Aid must also be given to municipal governments as well as to other organizations which are normally supported by the Community Chest or private subscription. This action must be taken at once to relieve immediate hardships and need.
2. An accurate and comprehensive survey must be conducted by competent authorities to discover the true extent and seriousness of this problem. In this connection the unemployed are a major factor.
3. The proposals of the Dominion Government contained in the "Green Book" published in 1945 in respect to the maintenance of employable unemployed persons must be implemented by the co-operation of the Dominion and Provincial Governments as soon as possible.
4. The recommendations contained in the "White Paper" placed before Parliament in April, 1945, on "the maintenance of a high level of employment and income as a primary object of policy," must be implemented as soon as administrative arrangements can be carried out.
5. That all governing bodies in Canada must be made aware that no matter at what cost the cure for mass unemployment must be found. The Canadian Legion knows that cynical and bitter complaints are growing among the men who composed the Armed Forces which so recently defended our way of life. The high morale which our Veterans revealed on Active Service must be maintained, not destroyed.

Further be it resolved that the government be asked to start immediately upon their promised program of public works, schools, universities, hospitals, community centres, and low rental housing in order to provide full employment and a higher standard of living for the people of Canada.

Members decided that future displays would be held in a public hall, because of the crowded quarters at the last affair.

"When falsehoods and distortions of facts are flung around in the form of gossip, it is time for the parish priest to do something," he said. ### Rose-Toned Bouquet Carried By Bride In French Blue

The chapel at H.M.C.S. Naden was the scene of the marriage of Alice Ada Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Murray, 906 Esquimalt Road, and Victor Arthur Luscombe, Esquimalt Road, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Luscombe, Vancouver.

The early-evening ceremony Oct. 28 was conducted by Chaplain G. L. Gillard. Deep rose chrysanthemums showered with rosebuds in the bride's bouquet were a perfect contrast with her toe-touching gown of French blue crepe, the full skirt accented with draped hipline peplum. Long sleeves were fitted over the wrists.

Tiny ostrich plume tips trimmed her blue velvet off-face hat, and she wore a cameo pendant, gift of her groom.

Mrs. Wilbert Bryan Jeeves was matron of honor. Her shell pink taffeta gown was fashioned with sheer bodice enriched with bands of pink taffeta. A halo of pink taffeta trimmed with a large pink rose created her headpiece, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white bebe chrysanthemums.

The groom's brother, John Luscombe, was best man. Roger Gray sang "Through the Years" as the couple signed the register. Charles Hunt was organist.

The couple received 200 guests at Esquimalt Community Hall. An archway of mauve and white chrysanthemums flanked by standard baskets of similar flowers, and centred with a huge wedding bell, formed the setting. Yellow candles and yellow rosebuds flanked the three-tier wedding cake.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Hunt. The couple left for the mainland on honeymoon and will return to make their home on Esquimalt Road.

The bride traveled in a teal green tricotone suit burgandy-toned accessories, and grey three-quarter length topcoat. A corsage bouquet of Talisman roses completed her costume.

British Women Rush Cotton-Goods Stores

LONDON (CP)—Women are starting a household textile famine in some parts of the country by rushing to buy utility-style sheets and towels before cotton-goods prices rise.

Non-utility stocks are being snapped up also.

"We have had women buying a dozen sheets at a time," said the linen buyer of one big London store.

"The demand has been enormous and if it continues we shall have to ration customers."

"Panic buying is unnecessary as the rise in raw cotton prices isn't likely to be reflected in the shops for three or four months."

The Board of Trade agrees there is a shortage and explains: "Manufacturers have never had a chance to build up stocks because there's been a consistent demand ever since rationing ended."

"Now the prospect of higher cotton prices has caused an extra rush on the shops."

Other cotton goods in short supply are babies' nappies.

Today's Recipe

DEVIL'S FOOD CUP CAKES

Sift flour, sugar, cocoa, baking powder, soda and salt into mixing bowl; add shortening and bran. Add about 1/2 of milk, then vanilla; beat until perfectly smooth, about 100 strokes. ## Watch Those Eyes; Beware Of Green

REGINA (CP)—It's all in the color of a woman's eyes, says a knowing city police detective.

If she has green eyes, look out!

Hiding behind a cloak of anonymity, the detective warned recently that green-eyed females are bad business.

"I've seen more men running away from green-eyed girls than all others put together," he said. "Some of them seem to be more than the boys can handle."

"They drive men to drink and all kinds of desperate actions. In many cases they seem to be too possessive and emotional."

Grandmere's Necklace Graces Pat Button's Bridal Gown

A diamond necklace, first worn by her grandmother for her marriage, was the sole jewel worn by Patricia Caroline Button when she was escorted by a quartette of attendants into Oak Bay United Church for her marriage to Gnr. Gordon Barr Bulmer, R.C.A., Saturday evening.

The couple, who exchanged wedding rings with their vows, left for the mainland on honeymoon and have now returned to make their home in Victoria.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Sadie Button, 1600 Hampshire Road, and her husband is son of Mrs. Margaret Bulmer of Hamilton.

For the ceremony, performed by Rev. W. W. McPherson, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Arthur A. Button. Fashioned on long, flowing princess lines, her gown of traditional satin was slightly on train, the full skirt appliqued with roses. A hand-embroidered veil was crowned with a circlet of white velvet embellished with roses, and misted beyond her gown. Yellow roses and dainty violets composed her bouquet.

In a rainbow of pastel tones, were attendants four. Mrs. K. W. Moore, gowned in

MOST CHILDREN WILL LIKE SCHOOL

While all children do not like school to exactly the same degree, it is unusual for a child to hate it so bitterly that actual illness results. Children first going to school often react by getting sick or having headaches, to prevent having to leave their mothers. But, this particular situation has been going on for two years!

When a child is made so unhappy by school there are two or three usual points of attack. First, can the child hear and see well so that school work is easy? Second, does the child have friends in her own neighborhood with whom she is so familiar that she feels no strangeness with children at school? Third, is she mentally alert in all other ways so that the mother knows that the work of school is not beyond her mental capacity? As a fourth question, one might ask: Does she like her teacher? Each of the avenues should be explored as a means of determining why this child has so extraordinary a reaction toward school.

Mrs. D. P. writes: "My daughter is seven and she does not like school. In fact she is afraid of any new books. This fear causes her to vomit every morning and cry until she is hysterical and exhausted." "Since school began she will not eat breakfast and takes no lunch along. She begs me not to make her eat. At noon, if she comes home, she cries all during lunch period and eats very little. She is fine Saturdays and Sundays."

"She wants me to go to school with her and meet her afterwards, but I have a smaller child and this is not convenient. Her playmate lives across the street and is in her room, but this doesn't help. My relatives tell me I am not strict enough with her

Boom Times Hit Ancient Arab City; Population Tripled

AMMAN, Hashemite Jordan (AP)—Boom times have hit the ancient city of Amman, capital city of the Hashemite Arab ruler, King Abdullah.

Amman is bursting at the seams after tripling its population to more than 100,000 persons in two years.

More than 300 buildings, including apartments and offices, are under construction. Everywhere along the hilly, dusty city streets are great piles of building stone. Pavements are torn up, sidewalks being laid, ditches dug and wires strung.

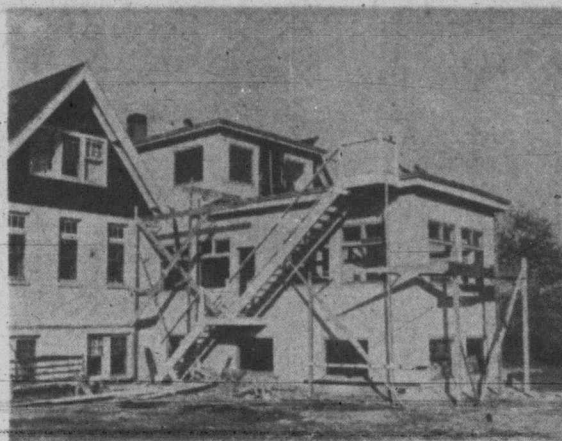

It all looks confusing, as though there were no master plan for development. As a matter of fact, there isn't. It's a catch-as-catch-can job in the best tradition of boom towns. Its made a little more difficult because Amman—a pre-Christian-era city—is spread out on the slopes of a number of high hills.

The reason for all the building goes back to the Palestine war when a large number of Arabs—chiefly from the large coastal cities of Haifa and Jaffa—fled to Amman. Despite the constant building, housing demands still are great. Besides the influx of refugees, the war made Amman a more important trading centre. Imports that used to come in by sea through Beirut in Arab Lebanon, thence overland to Amman for distribution.

U.S. Steps Up Shipments Of Lumber From Victoria

The two-fold effect of curtailed British overseas spending and increased value of the U.S. dollar in Canada will be markedly apparent in lumber shipments parent out of Victoria during October.

Since the war, shipload after shipload of Vancouver Island lumber has left this port for the United Kingdom, while shipments to the U.S. Atlantic seaboard numbered only one or two a month—far below the pre-war level.

Royal Bank Director

George L. Stewart, president of Imperial Oil Limited, whose appointment as a director of The Royal Bank of Canada is announced. Following his graduation from McGill, Mr. Stewart remained at the university for nearly two years as a lecturer and demonstrator. In 1916 he joined the engineering department of Imperial Oil at Sarnia refinery, advanced through many departments of the company's business, and in 1934 was appointed general manager in charge of all refineries from coast to coast. In 1944 he was made a vice-president and director; in 1947 became chairman of the board, and in 1949 was elected president of the company.

Britain To Cut Newsprint, Timber Imports From Canada

LONDON (CP) — Informed quarters here expect newsprint and timber will be two items on which the dollar-saving axe will fall most heavily when Britain announces her 1950 purchasing program in Canada.

A Board of Trade spokesman Monday termed "untrue" a report that no timber will be imported from Canada next year. But he declined to confirm or deny a similar report in regard to newsprint.

(In Fredericton last week, Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British publisher, said he had been informed the British government had notified London newspapers that no newsprint or lumber would be imported from Canada next year.)

Two Canadian representatives, J. G. Taggart, deputy agriculture minister, and Max Mackenzie, deputy trade and commerce minister, have returned to Canada after a week of trade talks with British government officials here.

It is known they discussed British purchasing plans in the light of tightened economic conditions.

Newsprint is one of Canada's largest export commodities. In 1948 Canada exported 4,640,000 tons, of which 61,000 tons went to the United Kingdom. The United States took 3,917,000 tons.

There is no indication when an announcement will be made with regard to British food purchases in Canada.

It is not thought, however, that imports of Canadian timber and timber products will be entirely eliminated, though they will probably be drastically reduced.

Post Office service on Nov. 11, Armistice Day, will be as follows: Letter carrier delivery, milk-wicket service, 8 a.m. to 12; public lobby, open until 6 p.m.; special delivery, as usual; receipt and dispatch of mails, as usual.

Manitoba Parties Set Forth Proposals; Election Nov. 10

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier Douglas L. Campbell's coalition government bases its appeal for re-election Nov. 10 mainly on its "sound, stable and business-like administration."

The C.C.F. official opposition in the last House, promises more adequate health and welfare services.

The Manitoba Democratic Movement, an anti-coalition bloc of Liberal-Progressives, Progressive Conservatives and Independents, says its main aim is "the dissolution of the Coalition."

These are the points stressed in manifestoes of the main groups in the provincial election campaign.

The Coalition received 14 acclamations when nominations closed Oct. 27 and it is unopposed in the Nov. 10 voting for four other seats. It contends that in the nine years since its formation it has advanced rural electrification, hydro developments, road building, assistance to municipalities, health and welfare, education and agriculture.

It says the public debt has decreased $37,000,000 under Coalition and that Manitoba has the lowest net per capita debt of any province.

The C.C.F. replies that this has been achieved by imposing burdens on municipalities for education and welfare. It proposes a hospital-care plan with the province and individual contributing. Its manifesto also calls for free medical, dental and hospital care for all old-age pensioners, blind pensioners and those receiving mothers' allowances.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES
The Coalition holds that Manitoba now pays the "most generous" mothers' allowances in Canada. It says health services have expanded tremendously and notes that a free blood-transfusion service is to be in effect Dec. 1.

The C.C.F. says it would push "energetically" a program of rural electrification. The Coalition answers that it already is well into a program aimed at providing electricity for an additional 5,000 farms annually.

The C.C.F. manifesto says the party would enact legislation to guarantee security of the farm and home, launch a crop-insurance plan and set up provincial marketing boards with producer representation.

BUILDING WITH VICTORIA — A BIGGER AND BETTER BAY

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

TEN DAYS AGO Boston's rookie goalie Jack Gelleneau was being touted as a possible rival to Montreal Canadiens' Bill Durnan for the number one spot among the net minders in the National Hockey League for the 1949-50 campaign. What a difference a couple of games have made. Today the former McGill University athlete rests on the last rung of the goalkeepers' averages in the league. A week ago his goals against average was 1.30 and today it is a healthy 4.00, due mainly to those 18 goals fired past him by Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks.

MEANWHILE THE EVER brilliant Durnan continues to battle opposing forwards. Although Canadiens have been having their troubles winning Durnan has still kept up his fine work. His average today is a smart one goal per game for eight engagements. Replacing Gelleneau as runner-up to Durnan is the veteran Turk Broda of Toronto Maple Leafs with an average of 1.86. Those same 18 goals just about eliminated Gelleneau from any hope of winning the Vezina trophy. Throughout the season Gelleneau is likely to have his goaling troubles as he has the youngest club in the league out in front of him.

DON'T BE SURPRISED if the Cougars get additional player help from Montreal Canadiens within a few days. Notice where the N.H.L. club recently signed a pair of promising amateurs and immediately shipped them to Cincinnati Mohawks of the American Hockey League for seasoning. It will mean that Cincinnati will have to let somebody go to make room for the newcomers. There is every chance the Cincinnati releases will come to the Cougars.

BASKETBALL COACH PORKY Andrews was in town over the week-end from Port Alberni. Andrews figures he has a stronger club than last season when his Ports gave the local Y.M.C.A. an awful scare in the island playoffs. Porky is still playing although admits Father Time is catching up with him. "Played against Vancouver Eagle-Times in an exhibition tilt and on one occasion saw a chance to break through the middle and the result was a real sting like the crack of a violin string in one of my leg muscles," Porky said. "Guess I will just have to stay back and play it the easy way."

WINNIPEG HOCKEY Monarchs last night moved into a second-place tie with Winnipeg Black Hawks defeating them 6 to 4, in a Manitoba Junior Hockey League game. Both teams trail the league-leading Brandon Wheat Kings by two points, but Brandon has a game in hand over Monarchs and two over Hawks.

New Bowladrome Has Modern Facilities

Though only in operation for one month, the new Esquimalt Bowladrome on Esquimalt Road now embraces eight leagues with a complement of 100 teams. The alleys, of which there are eight in number, are modern in every detail. Each is equipped with a magic eye foul-detection device and range-finder bowling. The alleys were installed by Brunswick Balke Collender Co. to A.B.C. specifications. Wally Smith, manager of the bowladrome, stated that an additional floor could be added to the building if future conditions warrant such a move. The alleys are proving popular with Esquimalt residents, with P.T.A. groups, high school leagues, Legion members among those engaged in league play.

Commission Bans Boxers From Mat Card At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Athletic Commission has banned a scheduled exhibition fight between professional boxers and wrestlers at Vancouver Forum tonight.

The commission's crackdown was announced late Tuesday by chairman Ald. Alex Fisher. Boxing promoter Al Principe earlier complained to the commission that wrestling promoter Cliff Parker, who planned to fight the show, was "infringing" on his rights.

Slated to meet in the contest were ex-world middleweight champion Freddie Steele and Vancouver-raised Phil Palmer; and wrestlers Stocky Knelson and Leo Karlenko.

Principe claimed that Parker's license did not permit him to engage boxers in Vancouver. He said the use of boxers on the wrestling show would hurt boxing crowds at Principe's own boxing show here Thursday at Denman Auditorium.

Tonight's Hoop Card

Three games are scheduled on tonight's basketball card at the High School gym.

Comets meet Arrow Furniture in a women's game at 7; Tillamook tangle with Chinese Students in a junior boys' game at 8 and Chinese Students meet Senators in a senior B men's game at 9.

Durnan To Battle Loop's Top Snipers

Big Bill Durnan of Montreal Canadiens, hockey's leading goaltender, will be up against the two top individual snipers at Chicago tonight. They haven't met in more than two weeks.

For Durnan, who has registered two shutouts in eight games, it may be a happy "reunion." He got his first shutout against the Black Hawks in the second game of the season Oct. 13.

But it shouldn't be a push-over. The Canadiens haven't been faring so well lately, while the Black Hawks—paced by individual scoring leaders Doug Bentley and Metro Prystai—have been rapidly improving. Hawks have two victories in their last two games.

Bentley leads all the league's scorers with three goals and eight assists for 11 points. Prystai is in second place with nine points—five goals and four assists.

Durnan has allowed only eight goals in eight games.

Edmonton Gridders Will Come To Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—The on-again-off-again clash between Edmonton Maple Leafs and Vancouver Blue Bombers in the second game of the western Canada junior Canadian football semifinals is on again.

Vancouver officials said Monday they were thinking of cancelling the game following Bombers' 40 to 1 cakewalk victory in Edmonton.

But Leaf manager Ted Allard said from Edmonton the team will be in Vancouver on Nov. 5. "We are doing our best to raise their spirits back to Friday's pre-game level."

WILKESBARRE, Pa.—Mike Koballa, 150, Pittsburgh, out-pointed Tony Baldoni, 157, Wilkesbarre (10).

Nanaimo-Kerrisdale Clubs May Bolt League; Plan Coast Loop

NANAIMO (CP)—Trouble with a capital T—may beset the infant five-team Mainline Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League.

The loop's two coast entries—Nanaimo Clippers and Kerrisdale Monarchs—feel they are getting a raw deal from the league's executives at Kelowna.

The remaining three league teams—Kelowna, Vernon and Kamloops—are all in the interior. Nanaimo and Kerrisdale team officials are annoyed because, they say, the interior puck squads have failed to commit themselves to as many games at the coast as would be played by coastal teams in the interior.

If they don't get satisfaction soon from league president J. M. Butler of Kelowna, the coast squads say they will break with the interior teams.

They have already drawn up tentative plans for a new "second round" league, composed of

Central Moves Into First Place Tie In School Cage Loop

Central Junior High moved into a first-place tie with Victoria Junior Reds in the Interhigh Junior Basketball League yesterday when they edged Oak Bay Greens, 33 to 30, in the only game on the card.

Played at the Cranmore Street gym, the contest was close all the way. Winners opened up with a 6 to 0 lead early in the opening quarter, but Oak Bay closed the gap and the frame ended with Central on top by a single point, 3 to 7.

Spearheaded by Lawrence Veitch, who potted eight points, Oak Bay forged ahead 21 to 15 as the teams left the floor at the halftime interval.

Third quarter produced some good, offensive basketball. With Dave Worthy pacing the attack, Central outscored losers, 8 to 4 to slice Bays' lead to a single point at the three-quarter mark.

Worthy proved to be the hero in the last quarter as he pushed up six of the winners' nine points while Oak Bay could only manage two field goals and a free toss.

Veitch topped all scorers with 16 points, while Worthy was high for Central with 14.

Teams and scorers follow:

Greens—Veitch 16, Priestley 8, Rapanos 3, Browne, Heal 1, Little 2, Whysker, Paynter, Sharp.

He played 34 games with the United States Hockey League club scoring 19 goals and garnering 21 assists in regular league play. He scored two goals and two assists in four play-off games.

Outstanding Junior Tennis Stars Named

NEW YORK (UP)—Ten players from five states today were designated as the nation's outstanding young tennis stars of 1949 by the Junior Davis Cup Committee of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Junior players named were Ronald Barnes of Kansas City, Mo.; Ernest Dubray of San Francisco; James Dye of Tucson, Ariz.; Alan Fischel of Long Island City, N.Y.; Charles Hickox of Berkeley, Calif.; Larry Huebner of Fresno, Calif.; Reynolds McCabe of Lamesa, Calif.; Julian Oates of Waco, Tex.; Richard Squires of Bronxville, N.Y.; and Jack Turpin of Dallas, Tex.

The late Henry L. Straus, inventor of the tennis ball, was crack naval pilot during the First World War.

Victoria Cougars are back in third place in the Pacific Coast Hockey League's northern division race today as they prepare for tonight's game with second-place New Westminster at New Westminster. It will be the second game in as many nights for both clubs and the fifth in six nights for the locals.

Displaying their best passing form of the season, especially in the middle period, coach Eddie Wares' club last night scored a "big" victory at Vancouver, defeating the Canucks, 8 to 6.

It was the Cougars' first triumph of the season on other than Memorial Arena ice and gave the team a record of six wins and six defeats for the season and a one-point edge over the Canucks.

Roy McKay was the star of the game. The right-winger rapped home four goals as the Cougars took a 3 to 1 lead in the first period, duplicated the feat in the second stanza and then held off a strong Vancouver rally in the third canto.

FODEY BRILLIANT

Goalkeeper Jerry Fodey also came in for his share of the honors though beaten six times.

Fodey was particularly brilliant in the first period when the Cougars were outplayed and out-shot to the tune of 13 to 6. But he was equal to the occasion and stopped every drive but the one which gave Vancouver their only lead of the game at 5:51 when Alan Kuntz dented the hemp.

McKay notched the equalizer six minutes later and Flori Goegan gave Cougars the lead at the 14:50 mark. McKay scored his second marker on a pass from Bob Wiest at 17:14 to establish the first-period margin.

Two minutes into the second period and McKay scored again. Wimpy Jones got that one back for the Canucks, but Eddie Martineau restored the three-goal bulge with his fifth tally of the season. McKay made it 6 to 2 before the period ended.

Following goals by Bobby Balance for Canucks and Wiest for Cougars, Canucks put on a hair-raising rally that resulted in three goals in three minutes. But Eddie Mazur put the result beyond doubt with three minutes left, scoring on a breakaway from Goegan.

Rockets-Royals In Battle

Down at Tacoma, the Rockets and Royals staged a battle royal which ended in a 5 to 5 tie.

The lead changed hands in every period until Royals scored the final tying goal with less than three minutes left in the game. Ken Ulyot of Westminster scored two of the Royals' markers.

In the league's southern division, San Diego ended a three-game losing streak by blasting Fresno Falcons, 4 to 0.

In Berkeley a small crowd saw Oakland Oaks trim Los Angeles Monarchs, 3 to 1.

Seven Stamps Make All-Star Grid Team

WINNIPEG (CP)—Football fans talk of "dream teams," but Coach Les Lear of the Western Interprovincial Football Union's Calgary Stampeders appears to have the best part of one under his own wing.

Seven Calgary players were picked for the Canadian Press by coaches and sports writers in the league's four cities, making up the bulk of a 12-man W.I.F.U. all-star team. Calgary, 1948 Dominion champions, also placed four men on an alternate team.

Saskatchewan Roughriders placed four men on the team, while the last-place Winnipeg Blue Bombers managed to garner one spot. Edmonton missed the first team, and placed two on the alternate.

Importation of United States players paid dividends. Nine placed on the first team. Les Lear was named to coach the mythical squad, while Edmonton's Annis Stukus was next in line.

The teams:

Second—Doug Belden, Regina, quarterback; Normie Kwong, Calgary, Chuck Fenenbach, Edmonton, and Harry Hood, Calgary, halves; Paul Rowe, Calgary, fullback; Doug Brightwell, Regina, centre; Bert Lannone, Calgary, and Bud Irving, Winnipeg, guards; Toar Springstein, Regina, and Pat

Sanucci, Regina, tackles; Matt Anthony, Regina, and Johnny Bell, Regina, ends. Annis Stukus, Edmonton, coach.

Only three players were chosen unanimously. They were Matheson, Aguirre and Cassidy, all linemen.

Blue Bombers Must Raid Eastern Market

WINNIPEG (CP)—Coach Frank (Butch) Larson feels that Winnipeg Blue Bombers will need at least six to eight players from eastern Canada next season to be a Grey Cup contender.

Larson said at the club "break-up" that he is counting on only about a dozen members for next season from this season's Bomber Club which finished an inglorious last in the Western Interprovincial football circuit.

"If we in Winnipeg are going to compete with Calgary, Regina and Edmonton, it's going to cost money. If they are spending a certain amount on players, we must do the same. In that way, and that way only, will Winnipeg be able to climb to the top again."

Larson said he will take in the University of Minnesota-Iowa game this Saturday and then will head for eastern Canada to watch various teams in action. He admitted that he has several players in mind from the east but declined to name them.

IMPORTS FAILED

Status of Winnipeg's five imports—Bob Sandberg, Mike Kissel, Bill Clawson, Wally Edwards and Johnny Gardiner—was not discussed by Larson. However, Sandberg has said this was his last season while Gardiner, a quarter, and Edwards, a centre, failed to live up to expectations. Kissel, however, made a spot at guard on the Western All-star team and said that he'll be back if Larson wants him. Clawson, who came through with several extremely good games, also said that it was up to Larson whether he returned.

SWIM CLUB MEETS

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league farm bosses insist there is no "ceiling" on practical operations of baseball chains, but you notice that a lot of clubs are cutting down a limit of somewhere between 10 and 15 affiliates . . . Beyond that the operation apparently becomes too expensive for the number of good players developed, though one operator points out that a couple of money-making farms can carry a lot of the load.

On the other side, minor leaguers complain that most working agreements are unsatisfactory and that the majors saddle the little clubs with too big a share of the expenses . . . but the little guys can't go it alone because they can't compete for talent nor support expensive scouting staffs.

Right now there are some 400 minor league clubs. If each big league club should limit itself to 15 farms, that would take care of 240 of them . . . maybe the answer is that a lot of towns want baseball but can't support organized teams at present-day prices . . . if you can figure out what to do for them, you'll have a lot of fodder for hot-stove discussions—and probably nothing more.

PUTT PUTT

When Walter Romans, the Baltimore golf pro, gets peeved at a putter for not working right, he "exiles" it to rear compartment of his car. At last report there were six there.

She Still Has Last Laugh

Despite the disdainful attitude of Harold Wyeth, he's going to take a lot of kidding from his wife for an awful long time. The pair, who live at 951 Dingley Dell, are seen with the 140-pound deer Mrs. Wyeth shot on the final days of the season in the Malahat area on her first official hunting trip. It was the first time Mrs. Wyeth had ever taken a shot at anything. Her husband failed to get a deer all season.

Baseball Ready To Abandon Bonus Rule

VERSAILLES, Ky. (UP)—Baseball's bonus rule appeared doomed today.

Members of the major league executive council voted for the complete repeal of the controversial bonus rule during a five-hour meeting at Commissioner A. B. Chandler's home here yesterday.

Major and minor league club owners will vote on the action next month and if the executive council's recommendation is adopted—as it appears assured—it will be all provisions of the bonus rule will be repealed 10 days after the legislation is passed.

If the bonus rule is scrapped in December, it will mean a

Stamps' Vern Graham Grid Scoring Champ

WINNIPEG (CP)—Vern Graham, Calgary Stampeder's homebrew flying wing, has captured the 1949 individual scoring title in the Western Interprovincial Football Union. He succeeds teammate Paul Rowe, who finished in a tie for fifth position this season.

Graham will be presented with the Dave Dryburgh Memorial Trophy, put up for competition by western sports writers in memory of the late sports editor of the Regina Leader-Post, at one of the western playoff games, either at Regina or Calgary.

(From Calgary it was reported that Graham is in hospital with an injured back suffered in the final game of the season against Edmonton on Monday night.)

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show Graham totaled 58 points in 14 games with the league-winning Stampeder's more than Saskatchewan Roughriders' Del Warden.

New York Yanks Earn Two Berths On All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, rivals in the last world series, each gained two berths on the Associated Press 1949 major all-star team.

Both, however, were forced to play second fiddle to Boston's Red Sox, who led all clubs with three representatives—outfielder Ted Williams and pitchers Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder.

The remainder of the dream squad picked by a poll of 116 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America is composed of one player each from Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Tommy Henrich, a converted first baseman, and shortstop Phil Rizzuto are the world champion Yankees on the squad. Second baseman Jackie Robinson and catcher Roy Campanella are the Dodgers' representatives.

Third baseman George Kell, only Tiger on the team, received the most votes. Stan Musial, Cardinals' star flychaser, got 100.

The smallest number of votes for a winner went to Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run slugger, whose 68 votes won the rightfield post.

Bill Anders Named Cricket Club Prexy

The Albion Cricket Club at its recent annual meeting elected W. "Bill" Anders as president for the coming season.

Ted Oakman was elected to position of secretary with W. I. Land as treasurer.

Bill Stanley was named coach of the team with Jack Shanks as captain for another term and E. Bowckett as vice-captain.

Junior members will be coached by Glenn Allen, who offered his services to the club.

As a means towards improving the calibre of play, the club intends to obtain instructional films from the Victoria and District Association. It was also decided to offer a prize bat to the team member showing the most improvement during the season.

More than 80 per cent of all stakes winning horses annually were traceable to Eclipse, foaled in 1764. (Eclipse is a great-grandson of the Darley Arabian). Matchem, foaled in 1748, is a grandson of the Godolphin Arabian and the ancestor of some 15 per cent of today's leading horses. The minority group, about five per cent, is traceable to Herod, a great-grandson of the Byerly Turk.

Michigan State Takes Sight On Leading Irish

NEW YORK (AP)—Two new teams, Southern Methodist and Michigan State, elbowed their way into U.S. college football's "first 10" today and one of them, Michigan State, took an immediate head on the No. 1 spot held by Notre Dame.

The Fighting Irish, making a near runaway of the race for national honors, move over to East Lansing, Mich., Saturday for a game with the Spartans, now 10th in the rankings.

The Spartans have been hovering around the fringe of the select bracket chosen in the weekly Associated Press poll but didn't squeeze in until they walloped Temple, 62 to 14, for their fifth victory in six starts. Their only setback was an opening 7 to 3 loss to Michigan.

Southern Methodist is an old familiar tenant which just moved out after bowing to Rice, 41 to 27. Minnesota plummeted from seventh to nowhere after bowing to Purdue, 13 to 7, and Penn fell from ninth to a tie with Fordham for 20th.

Notre Dame, Army, Oklahoma and California, all amassing more than 1,000 points in the nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters, continued to set the pace in just the order named.

Then followed Michigan, Baylor, Cornell, Rice, S.M.U. and Michigan State.

Bill MacKenzie To Coach Stratford

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bill MacKenzie, coach last season of Brandon Wheat Kings, will take over as coach of Stratford Kroehers of the Ontario Hockey Association "junior A" circuit, it was learned here today.

Under MacKenzie, the Wheat Kings went to the Memorial Cup final last season where they bowed in a gripping eight-game series to Montreal Royals. At Stratford, MacKenzie will succeed Ray Barblin who was a former coach at Port William.

Smashed Body Fails To Ground Nick Wall

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Nick (The Nerve) Wall, the jockey who wouldn't surrender to a near-fatal spill, is booting home winners again at the age of 41.

In one of the great comebacks of thoroughbred racing, little Nick rode two stakes winners at the just concluded Bay Meadows meeting. Today he switches to Tanforan's fall meeting here.

It was at Bay Meadows, in 1946, that this saddle star who learned to ride at eastern Canada tracks, was taken to hospital. He was writhing in pain, his body literally smashed as his mount stumbled, rolled on him.

Doctors found Nick had 12 ribs broken, both lungs punctured, and a collar bone separation. They said he was lucky to have come out alive. . . . That he'd never ride again.

Nick, then 38 and with a body so broken he was in hospital for nine weeks, agreed . . . for a while.

Time healed the physical hurts.

WORKED AT TRACK

In the spring of 1947 Wall returned to racing here at Tanforan. But not as a jockey. He became a clerk in the racing secretary's office. Then he was appointed a patrol judge. That indirectly vaulted him back into the saddle.

Nick was required each day to view motion pictures of the previous day's races. The idea for a comeback struck him during one of the film runoffs.

"I hadn't gained any weight, my condition was good and I had 20 years' experience to go on," Wall reminisced. "Every day I was watching riding mistakes, some that I used to make myself. It was an education in riding. Watching those pictures caused me to make my decision. The back of a horse was the place for me."

Says Canadian Engineers Should Get Preference

The principle of Canadian engineers for Canadian work was strongly advocated here Tuesday night by J. E. Armstrong, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Speaking before the members of the Victoria branch of the nationwide association, Mr. Armstrong, who is chief engineer for the C.P.R., struck out at Canadian firms which employ American engineers, saying: "Only in very special cases is appropriate Canadian engineering talent non-existent."

ENCOURAGING CHANGE

The speaker said, there appeared to be an encouraging change taking place, and noted that figures in the August issue of the Engineering Journal showed that a higher percentage of young Canadian engineers are now staying in this country.

Mr. Armstrong termed this "a major benefit to the engineer himself, to his Canadian employer and to Canada."

The president told the 135-member Victoria branch of the work of the organization, outlining its functions and services. There are approximately 12,000 engineers in the institute's 31 branches, he said.

"The engineer who would attain professional status must first attain professional consciousness. The institute can be of assistance to him in attaining this—but the public alone can award him the accolade of professional status," Mr. Armstrong stated.

PROTECT RESOURCES

Dr. L. Austin Wright, general secretary of the E.I.C., who is accompanying the president on his tour, told of the group's efforts to have the protective tariff on U.S. engineers' drawings sent to Canada reimposed. It was removed in 1946.

He pointed out that it had been shown many times that American engineers were not always superior to those in this country.

Appointment of an engineer to the International Joint Commission was urged by Dr. Wright.

"Most of the problems of the commission have to do with engineering—irrigation, power sites and so on. Canada has no engineer on the six-man commission, while two of the United States' three representatives are engineers."

MAN LIKE MAGRATH

"We would like to have another man like the late C. A. Magrath, who died here a few days ago. He was an engineer and his record on the commission shows what can be done."

"It is necessary to have such a man representing Canada if our economic resources are to be protected," Dr. Wright concluded.

Police Seeking Smooth Auto Theft Operator Here

During the course of a year a lot of cars are stolen in Victoria and district, but probably none was taken in a more unique manner than the one from the Sylvester U-Drive parking lot Tuesday.

Somewhere today a blonde city woman is still at large with the missing vehicle.

One of the firm's customers on returning with a rented car was approached by the woman who identified herself as the manager's wife and told him he could leave the keys with her. He turned them over. She left with the car.

Jack Robbins, manager of the firm, told police he saw the woman driving the car on downtown streets at 11:30 in the morning.

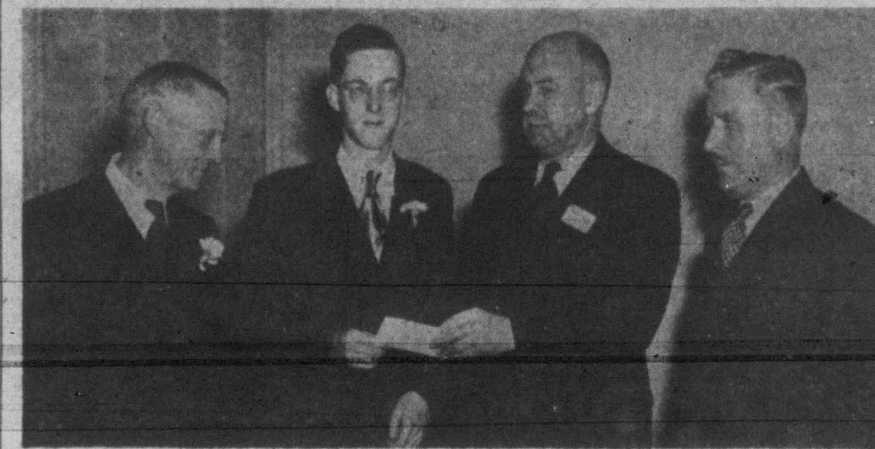

Before the loss was reported, Sanich police had reason to check the car and its occupant on the road leading to the top of Mount Tolmie. The municipal officers obtained the name and address of the driver. Police had had previous dealings with the woman.

Police of the whole area have been alerted to be on the lookout for the vehicle.

Radio Open House

Radio dealers throughout the city will hold open house Thursday and Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 to mark National Radio Week. Purpose of open house is to display new model radios and radio phonographs to members of the public whose daytime occupation prevent their visiting store during regular hours. No business will be transacted during the special viewings and sets will be used for demonstration only.

Kiwanians Award Scholarship

A. Ronald Forbes, second from left, receives $150 Kiwanis Club scholarship, awarded annually to top male student in first year at Victoria College. Joseph B. Clearhue, chairman of the college scholarship committee, making the presentation; Prof. Jeffrey Cunningham, vice-principal of college, left, and Don Smith, president of Kiwanis Club, right, look on.

Presentation of the annual $150 Kiwanis Club scholarship, given annually to the leading first-year male student at Victoria College, was made to Ronald Forbes at the weekly luncheon meeting of the local service club Tuesday at the Empress Hotel.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of the Victoria College. Speaking on the subject "Why Encourage Scholarships," Dr. Ewing outlined three important aspects in answer to his chosen topic.

"Education has two distinct functions," he said. "First of all, it seeks to produce the finest type of citizen from the students, and, secondly, to develop the peculiar abilities each student possesses."

"As we are living in a scientific age when life itself depends almost entirely upon machinery, it would be useless unless we had people to make and operate these machines," the speaker stated.

Emphasis should also be placed on continued research, Dr. Ewing said. This called for the best educated brains the country could produce. Scientific progress was wrapped up in research, he continued. Research was absolutely necessary for progress and even existence.

THINKERS NEEDED

"The thing we need most of today, however, is the development of thinkers. We have created a tremendously complex world and we are tending to blunder about blindly in the complexity of it and out of it all, what is our goal? Our knowledge still lacks interpretation. Man's achievements threaten civilization."

"It appears that life is one continuous escape from the ultimate problems. We need a coordinating mind to straighten things out," Dr. Ewing said.

"In conclusion, I would like to suggest that if life is to regain its meaning to us, we shall have to find men with great thinking minds such as Plato's. Such a man who can go beyond mere learning."

Joseph B. Clearhue, chairman of the college scholarship committee, stated that the occasion marked the 29th consecutive year the Kiwanis Club had presented a scholarship to Victoria College.

Prof. Jeffrey A. Cunningham, vice-principal of Victoria College was introduced to the club. He stated that on the whole Kiwanis Club scholarship winners have outshone all the other scholarship winners.

He said there were several factors concerning the success of scholarship winners, but stated the three main ones as being natural ability, possessing an objective and just plain hard work.

Donna Grescoe's Genius To Grow More Beautiful

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

It is a little awe-inspiring and definitely exciting to find oneself in the presence of genius in bloom; fresh, sturdy bloom that is obviously not destined to fade early but promises the future an even more glowing and abundant beauty.

The ablest critics have called Donna Grescoe a genius, a truly great violin lyricist, and few who heard the 22-year-old girl in recital at the Victoria High School Tuesday night, would think of modifying such statements.

Donna Grescoe's large audience responded to the limpidity, the classic purity and assurance of her playing, with quick admiration and enthusiasm.

Leopold Miltman, the world-renowned pianist and accompanist who toured for several years with Milstein and Elman, brought additional distinction to the evening's performance. The cohesion between violinist and pianist was almost uncanny; there was a "oneness" of intention, a balanced partnership that was in itself a delight.

PHENOMENAL ADJUSTMENT

The Bruch Concerto in G minor was, of course, the highlight of this eminently satisfying collaboration. The give-and-take, the adjustment between violin and piano, the controlled virtuosity of both artists, was phenomenal. At no point in this extraordinarily difficult concerto did Donna relinquish taste and artistry for pure virtuosity. At the same time, the bravura of her performance was little short of miraculous.

Throughout the Grieg C minor Sonata and the Ballade and Polonaise of Vieuxtemps, one was amazed at the command of subtle tonal coloration which has at times a quality like silk and is at others, an exquisite combination of masculine strength and sweetness.

Interpretively, too, Donna has come a long way on the road to maturity. There is a fine air of dedication about her playing and about the quiet poise and grace of her platform manner. Her conceptions are clear-cut and sustained; rich in mood and poetry. One excellent example of these qualities, was the Smetana, "Aus Der Heimat" No. 11. The Four Preludes of Schostakowitch were a provocative group and here one marvelled afresh at her fluent and masterful bow technique.

GREAT FAILURE

Several encores were added. Among them, "The Canary," a maze of breath-taking harmonics, carried the audience by storm.

The program may have lacked something in the way of classical weight, but Donna left no doubt in anyone's mind of the greatness and distinction of her future.

Congratulations to the Business and Professional Women's Clubs across Canada for their sponsorship of this outstanding young Canadian artist.

900 Teachers To Gather For Convention In City

Close to 900 teachers will gather in Victoria Thursday, coming from all parts of Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands.

Occasion for the meeting is the third annual Vancouver Island Teachers' Convention, to be held at Victoria High School. Purpose of the convention is to bring teachers up-to-date on the latest educational practices.

Teachers from rural and urban elementary and secondary schools will exchange ideas on methods, techniques, teaching aids, school organization and administration. Those attending will see modern equipment in use in Greater Victoria schools and will witness demonstration classes by city schools' specialists.

At a similar convention last year attendance reached 800. A greater number is expected this year to make this the largest fall convention of teachers in the entire province.

VARIOUS TRANSPORTATION

Every mode of travel from aircraft to motor launch will be used to bring delegates to this city. A delegation of teachers coming from Powell River, on the mainland, will fly to Vancouver and then by C.P.R. boat to the capital.

Gulf Island and west coast teachers will come at least part of the way by launch. Some island teachers will come by train while others will travel by car and bus.

The convention will be opened formally at a public meeting in Victoria High School auditorium Thursday evening at 8. Dr.

Thomas R. Cole, professor of education at the University of Washington, will speak at this time on "Extremes and Reversals in Education."

Friday will be devoted to sectional meetings at which teachers will hear from specialized instructors and will discuss problems and teaching methods.

SPECIAL SPEAKERS

Twenty-six such meetings are scheduled. Some of the special sessions will feature speakers from outside the teaching profession.

H. P. Hodges, Editor-in-Chief of the Victoria Times, will address school personnel engaged in administrative work on the subject of public relations. G. A. Hardy of the Provincial Museum will speak on biology to an audio-visual education section. Victor Mott, dress designer, will speak to an art section. C. T. Lyons, a park superintendent, will deal with forest conservation.

A group of industrial arts teachers will be taken on a tour of city industrial plants.

At a Friday noon luncheon to be held in High School gymnasium, W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric, will address convention delegates.

The convention will conclude Saturday noon, following business meeting of island members of the B.C. Teachers' Federation. Resolutions will be drafted at this meeting for submission to the next annual meeting of the association in 1950.

Coffee Up 12c Since August; Further Increases Indicated

Retail price on well-known packaged brands of coffee has jumped from 63 cents to 75 and 80 cents a pound in Victoria since August, with every indication of further increases, according to word from a local coffee merchant today.

"We definitely expect further increases for there is a shortage of 3,000,000 bags of coffee and production is not equal to consumption," the merchant said.

There is a rumor that the price may go as high as $1 a pound wholesale, but on a rising market almost any figure might be possible though not necessarily probable, according to one dealer. Average increase to date has been about 12 cents on the pound.

"The answer lies with the American housewife for if she served one cup of coffee instead of two the shortage would be solved," the merchant felt. "Of the 33,000,000 bags of coffee consumed in the world, 22,000,000 are consumed in the United States. There is no immediate cause for concern of a shortage in Victoria, however, it was pointed out. Increased consumption, loss by drought of coffee crops in Brazil and exhaustion of a wartime coffee backlog, coupled with stiff bidding competition for the available stocks are reasons given for the present situation.

Not What It Seemed To Be

City policemen attending at a John Street address early this morning in response to a report about a man lying on the boulevard "apparently dead," found the "corpse" to be a man who was dead drunk.

Still in a rather tipsy and befuddled condition he appeared a few hours later in the city police court parade before Magistrate H. C. Hall, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place for the third time and was given the usual 20-day jail term.

Amusement By-Law Charge Remanded

Trial of Monty Montaine, 1034

View Street, on a charge of unlawfully operating a dance after the hour of midnight Aug. 21, was remanded to Nov. 9 in city police court this morning.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, told Magistrate H. C. Hall that James J. Proudfoot, defence counsel, next Wednesday would present written argument in support of his contention the city amusement-by-law under which the charge is laid was bad law. The prosecutor said he would reply to the argument on that date.

Pleading guilty to a vagrancy charge of begging Tuesday, George H. Colvin, Vancouver, was sentenced to 15 days in jail by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Anniversary Dinner For Literary Group

There is scarcely any experience in life that Shakespeare has not made more real by his comments, Harry L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, told members attending the 50th anniversary dinner of the Victoria Literary Society in the Strathcona Hotel Tuesday night.

The Victoria Literary Society has been reading good books for 50 years, covering all of Shakespeare's best-known plays several times over, said Mrs. James Stewart, who joined at the society's first meeting, Sept. 16, 1889.

Monthly meeting of the Victoria Local Council of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada will be held at the Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion, Thursday at 8.

THE HOPE-PRINCETON HIGHWAY

PROBABLY no individual played a more active part in blazing the trails which were the beginning of this modern highway than Alexander Caulfield Anderson, pictured at left. It is a coincidence that the man responsible (at left, below) for completing construction is a namesake of the pioneer builder. This road, which follows approximately the Hudson Bay trade route to the then little-known Interior, provides fast, direct transportation between the Coast and Central British Columbia.

Once the decision was made to complete this link, the most modern road building equipment was used to literally move mountains, the contractors working double shifts to complete the task this year.

This Hope Princeton Highway is now another link in the progressive road-building program of your Province.

Frigate's Mascot To Receive Medal For Good Conduct

PLYMOUTH, Eng. (AP)—Simon the cat, mascot of the frigate Amethyst, has an appointment with the admiral's lady.

Simon was acclaimed a hero for his conduct when the ship ran a gauntlet of Communist forces controlling the Yangtze River. He will receive the Dicks Medal, which a private British group awards to brave animals.

The medal will be placed around Simon's neck by Lady Burnett, wife of Admiral Sir Robert Lindsay Burnett, naval commandant of Plymouth, some time this week.

With the Amethyst arriving today a hero's welcome had been arranged for its crew, including the cat.

The People's Dispensary for Sick Animals, which confers the Dicks Medal, released a letter from the Amethyst's captain, Lt. Cmdr. John Kerans, extolling the deeds of Simon.

The cat, he wrote, was wounded on the back and left side by a shell fragment and his face was burned.

"For many days Simon felt very sorry for himself," Kerans said. "But when his wounds had healed he was again to be seen prowling around the ship. His whiskers even now show signs of the explosion."

"Rats which began to breed rapidly in the damaged portions of the ship were a real menace to the health of the ship's company."

"Simon rose to the occasion and, after two months, the rats were much diminished. In fact, when we managed to obtain some traps, not a single rat was caught in any of the 48 traps set throughout the ship."

Sailors Will Try To Win Whaler Trophy

Just after the war, the Royal Canadian Navy put up a trophy for whaler and cutter sailing competition between navy men and members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

Since then, the navy has never seen the cup, for the civilian yachtsmen have had continuous possession.

With this in mind, the navy will be out for victory in no uncertain terms Saturday afternoon in Esquimalt Harbor when they try once again to wrest the silverware from the yacht club representatives.

The event, which gets under way at 2.30, will be a re-sail of races held Oct. 33 when a total of 12 whalers and four cutters were unable to complete the course because of poor sailing conditions.

The yacht club team will rendezvous at H.M.C.S. Naden at 2.30 Saturday afternoon.

The two teams last competed for the trophy July 30 and 31.

A $35 fine was imposed for careless driving and a $5 fine for having no current driver's license, against David S. Gibb, 2533 Prior Street, when he appeared in Esquimalt police court Monday afternoon and had these charges read against him. Charge arose following an accident he was involved in Oct. 11 on Admirals Road.

Saanich 7,000,000-Gallon Reservoir

Here is the high, rocky ground—395 feet above sea level—to be excavated for the new 7,000,000-gallon floating reservoir in Saanich on Rithet farm property east of the Royal Oak Municipal Hall. The water reserve, according to municipal officials, will solve the water shortage problem in the higher and outside areas at present hard hit by the water shortage in the summer months. Reservoir is a portion of the $370,000 waterworks program to improve the water situation in Saanich.

Firecrackers Cause Of Saanich Home Fire

Only serious fire caused by fireworks occurred at the home of Mrs. E. Foster, Pipeline Road, Saanich, at 7.28 Monday night. Firecrackers in the hands of children started a fire which was extinguished by Saanich firemen. Flames damaged a portion of the ceiling, two sheets and a dressing gown. Saanich fire officials reported.

PARENTS' NIGHT

A parents' night will be held in St. Luke's Hall Thursday, at 8 by the Boy Scout group committee. There will be a short cub "coming up" ceremony and the building committee will make a full report on their year's progress with the new Scout Hall.

"Black Magic on Vancouver Island" will be the subject of an address by E. A. McKelvie at the meeting of the B.C. Historical Association in the Provincial Library Monday at 8.30.

Saanich Council Members To Serve 1 And 2-Year Terms

The four candidates seeking election in the December Saanich elections who top the polls will win two-year terms. The other three elected will have one-year terms.

The new election set-up has been brought about by the abolition of the ward system in the municipality, brought about by the action of Saanich Council last Tuesday night. Previously councilors were elected annually for one-year terms.

Councilors will be elected "at large," the same as the reeve.

Fear has been expressed by the outer rural wards that Saanich Council will be dominated by the inner wards because the majority of voting strength is in the urban wards.

There are several money by-laws and other matters for the electors to vote on in the coming elections.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make in your own kitchen. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble! (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then get from your drugist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saving, because it doesn't please you in every way. Pinex is Dependable. Saves Money. Easy To Mix.

'Responsibility' Optimists' Theme

More than 50,000 Optimists throughout North America will observe Optimist Week from Nov. 6 to 13 and the theme during that week will be "Responsibility."

George Gordon, president of the Victoria Optimist Club, stated that it was the responsibility of all to see that today's children grew up to become intelligent, morally upright men, and members of the Optimist Clubs throughout the continent had always strived for that purpose.

The slogan "Friend of the Boy" must be interpreted to mean that Optimists must be friends to each and every boy, Mr. Gordon said.

Next week, featured speakers will address members of the local club, stressing the importance of youth activities.

Agnes, the Indian girl, after a long absence from the city police court parade was back in the line-up on Tuesday. She had been drunk in a Fisgard Street cafe. Magistrate H. C. Hall noted with approval that "at least you've been a little better in the last short while—but appear again and I'll be much more severe." The girl got the usual penalty, $10 or three days in jail.

To Inspect Malahat On Western Tour

Capt. Howard L. Quinn, director of naval reserves, will visit Victoria's reserve unit, H.M.C.S. Malahat, Nov. 17, naval headquarters at Ottawa announces.

Capt. Quinn, on his first tour of western naval divisions since his appointment to his present post Sept. 7, will be accompanied by Cmdr. W. A. Childs, assistant director of naval reserves, and Lt.-Cmdr. A. H. Graham, engineer officer naval reserves.

The western tour will start at H.M.C.S. Griffon today. On Nov. 15, the party will inspect H.M.

C.S. Discovery at Vancouver. Other cities to be visited are Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Prince Rupert, Edmonton and Saskatoon.

Egg Prices Rise

Pullet and Grade-B eggs this week are selling for three cents a dozen more than they were last week.

Pullet eggs advanced from 35 to 38 cents a dozen on the producer's level, setting the new retail price at 51 cents, while Grade B's moved from 37 to 40 cents on the producer's level, making them 53 cents a dozen in stores.

Canada, Belgium Compared By Visiting Ambassador

A comparison between Belgium and Canada was made here Tuesday by Viscount Alain du Parc, Belgian Ambassador to Canada currently in the city concluding a tour of Canada and of consular offices across the country.

The ambassador, speaking excellent English, told of Belgian money, stamps and government documents being in two languages, as in Canada, only in his country the languages were French and Flemish instead of French and English.

He said the status of French-speaking and Flemish-speaking people was equal, and that a good many people speak both languages. And, of course, there are regional accents.

PROSPEROUS YEARS

Viscount du Parc, who came to Canada as ambassador at the beginning of this year, described conditions in Belgium as fully returned to normal at the present time, and pointed out that 1947 and 1948 were prosperous years.

Manufacturing, he said, has increased to 125 per cent of the prewar figure. He cited such industries as the many branches of textiles, glass, chemicals and iron and steel.

Pointing to the covering on the chair upon which he was seated in the Empress Hotel, the ambassador noted such materials were among the products of his country.

About two-thirds of Belgium

VISCOUNT DU PARC

is highly cultivated, he said, adding that the soil was rich.

NO RESTRICTIONS

"There are no restrictions in Belgium now — and no rationing—you can go where you want to and do what you like," the viscount commented.

Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by his wife, he visited Mayor Percy George at City Hall.

Thursday, before leaving for Vancouver and Ottawa, he will renew his acquaintanceship with Premier Byron Johnson whom he met recently in the federal capital.

Export Problems Of Canada's Farming Population Studied

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor

In agriculture, as in many other things, Canada continues to fare rather better than might have been expected in these days of postwar adjustment.

But world agriculture problems are developing, and are of immediate concern to Canadians who depend for much of their living on the sale abroad of farm products.

Again, as in the past, there is a tendency towards food surpluses in some places, while millions elsewhere have not enough to eat.

The question is: How can the hungry attain, or be helped to attain, a position wherein they can afford to buy the food which more fortunate countries have to sell?

It is part of the great trade problem of the world—the breaking down of barriers which keep peoples from exchanging their goods with one another, and the building up of pathways between them.

The current monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia makes a thoughtful study of the situation.

It concludes: "Though agriculture is facing real problems, there is no reason to believe they are incapable of solution. The need for food is great and is likely to continue so in the foreseeable future."

"The difficulty is to translate that need into effective demand, and particularly into effective dollar demand."

"The task ahead is to achieve a reasonable readjustment which will facilitate a healthy flow of international trade on which the prosperity of agriculture so greatly depends."

The review states, however: "Though the Food and Agriculture Organization (F.A.O.) estimates that import requirements are still large enough to prevent the accumulation of burdensome grain surpluses in the exporting countries, it is clear that the strength of world demand for food has diminished."

"Recent prices for primary foodstuffs have been arrived at under conditions of scarcity which now are abating. The terms of trade for food producers are probably more favorable than can be sustained."

Honorary Degree Given Archdeacon

WINNIPEG (CP)—Ven. N. R. Clarke, Archdeacon of Moose, and Very Rev. J. O. Anderson, Dean of Rupert's Land, Tuesday received the degree of doctor of divinity at the 82nd convocation of St. John's College.

Bachelor of divinity degrees were conferred on Rev. Maurice A. E. Hardman and Rev. Maurice Poole. A diploma in theology was awarded Miss Ivy Helps.

The Victoria Begonia Society will meet tonight in the boardroom of the Douglas Hotel at 8.

Merchants Asked To Buy New Wreaths

A few city merchants have the wrong attitude toward the Poppy Day Campaign, Col. R. B. Longridge, director, said today.

Some have told canvassers they still have last year's wreath and propose to use that again for decorative purposes.

"There is nothing to prevent them from doing this," Col. Longridge said. "But in so doing, the whole spirit of the campaign is lost."

He explained proceeds from the sale of poppies and wreaths were used to assist disabled veterans and their families.

"The emergency help is needed every year and so the sale of wreaths and poppies is needed each year."

"If these wreaths were looked upon not just as a decoration for the day but as a token of remembrance to those who are honored on Remembrance Day as a whole, or to some individual who lost his or her life, then probably last year's purchase would not be looked upon as sufficient."

British Unions To State Position On Devaluation

LONDON (CP)—Britain's trade union leadership, having spent nearly two months wondering what to do about devaluation, is expected to make up its mind next week.

What it finally decides may shape the policies of organized labor for many months.

The decision will be made by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress, official mouthpiece of 187 affiliated unions and about 8,000,000 workers. The council will sit in judgment next Wednesday on a report by a special devaluation committee.

Since devaluation was announced Sept. 18, the trade union wing of the governing Labor Party has acted rather like a man suffering from a loss of speech. In effect, it became Socialism's silent partner, reluctant to say officially what it thought about the probable effects of devaluation.

This was partly because events moved too quickly. Two weeks before the pound was devalued from $4.03 to $2.80 in United States funds, the T.U.C. met in annual conference and gave almost blanket approval to the government policy in restraining wage claims.

Devaluation changed the picture. The pressing problem was whether the congress could go along with the freeze on wages when everybody took it for granted that the cost of living was going to go up.
